District Attorney Langdon Will Not Tell Whether the Mayor Will Be Put in Custody on Monday or Not.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—"THE TRIAL OF MAYOR SCHMITZ," SAID DISTRICT ATTORNEY LANGDON, "ON THE CHARGE OF EXTORTION IN THE SUM OF $1150 WILL BE COMMENCED NEXT MONDAY MORNING IN JUDGE DUNNE'S BRANCH OF THE SUPERIOR COURT."

"SCHMITZ WAS INDICTED JOINTLY WITH RUEF FOR EXTORTING MONEY FROM THE PROPRIETORS OF SEVERAL FRENCH RESTAURANTS IN THIS CITY."

"THE PROSECUTION IN THE MATTER OF THE SELECTIONS OF THE JURORS WILL BE CONDUCTED BY ATTORNEY HIRAM JOHNSON, WITH OCCASIONAL ASSISTANCE FROM MYSELF AND ATTORNEY HENRY AFTER THE JURY SHALL HAVE BEEN SECURED."

"THERE IS NO NECESSITY FOR INTOLERABLE DELAY IN GETTING THE JURY. WE OUGHT TO OBTAIN THE JURY IN TWO WEEKS."

"AS TO WHETHER OR NOT THE DEFENSE WILL PURSUE THE DILATORY TACTICS WHICH CHARACTERIZED THE DEFENSE IN THE RUEF CASE WOULD ONLY BE CONJECTURE."

"WILL THE MAYOR BE PLACED IN CUSTODY DURING THE TRIAL?" ASKED THE TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT.

"THAT MATTER RESTS SOLELY IN THE DISCRETION OF THE COURT AND WITH IT THE PROSECUTION HAS NOTHING TO DO."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Ruef slept well last night and, accompanied by Elisor Biggy, took a walk through the Presidio grounds this morning.

Referring to the assertion of Mayor Schmitz that he had lied when he said he had paid bribe money to the mayor, Ruef significantly said that his statement had been made under oath.

Actress, Locked in Room, Jumps From Window

Claiming that she did not want to stay in a room all night with "Joe" McDonald, a traveling man, Nellie Chapman, an actress, twenty-six years old, jumped from the second story of the lodging house at 417 1-2 Seventh street last night and sustained a compound fracture of the right leg four inches above the ankle, and the physicians at the Receiving Hospital say it is the worst fracture that was ever treated in the hospital. The bone was fairly crushed and silver protruded out through the flesh.

The affair happened last night about 8 o'clock. When the police patrol took Miss Chapman to the hospital, McDonald accompanied her and when asked how the accident happened, the drummer told his lady friend fell down the stairs. She verified his statement and did not tell the truth of the affair until this morning. While Dr. Irwin and Steward Borchert were working on the fracture,

OF THE UNITED RAILROADS

This Complicates Situation, Says Authorities

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—All of the electricians in the employment of the United Railroads struck today in sympathy with the striking carmen. There is direct authority for the statement that the electricians employed by the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company will not strike, as to do so would be a breaking of the union's contract with that corporation.

The information of this new strike was conveyed at once to Governor Gillett and his aides and a meeting of the military staff at headquarters in the ferry building followed. Subsequently the Governor denied himself to newspaper men for the time being, but from Adjutant General Lauck the following statement was obtained:

"The strike of the electricians unquestionably complicates the situation. How grave a feature of the present labor disturbance this may prove to be cannot well be forecasted. It has resulted, however, in redoubled vigilance on the part of the United Railroads, who fear the cutting of their lines, and the Governor is watching the situation very closely.

"I am credibly informed that the electricians' union will not attempt to interfere with the serving of power to the United Railroads, and that Mr. Calhoun is able now to replace all of the electrical workers who have quit him. Further information is that a large number of secret service men have been engaged to watch the company's lines insofar as that is possible."

General Lauck was asked whether at the staff conference the advisability of calling out troops to meet this new emergency had been discussed. He replied: "The Governor maintains his attitude on that point, unchanged, namely that the only justification for the ordering out of the National Guard will be a condition of general rioting—the collection of lawless crowds who break the peace and defy the authority of the police."

Assistant President Mullally of the United Railroads said:

"All of our union linemen and stationmen, between fifty and sixty in number, struck today in sympathy with the carmen. We filled their places immediately with non-union men and no interruption of the partial service now being maintained has resulted. We shall watch very closely for the cutting of wires by strikers and their friends, and any person detected in such an act of malicious violence will be promptly and fully prosecuted."

WILL OPERATE CROSS TOWN LINES NEXT

Also Gradually Increase Night Service

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—It was announced this morning by officials of the United Railroads that beginning next week the cross-town lines will be operated. It was also stated that commencing this evening service on all lines will continue until 8 o'clock and that this time will gradually be extended until the cars are operated on the former night schedule.

SAYS THE RAILROAD IS BUYING OFF "BUSSES"

Cornelius Makes a Statement

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—In an exclusive statement to a reporter of THE TRIBUNE this afternoon Mr. Cornelius, president of the Carmen's Union, declared that he had been informed of an attempt on the part of the United Railroads to tie up all the busses and drags now carrying passengers by offering the owners and drivers $10 per day to keep their teams in the barns. He said:

"I this afternoon received word from several of the pickets at the various car barns that Patrick Calhoun, through his agents, had offered several of the larger bus companies $10 a day for each team that they were now running if they would keep them in the barns.

"He went so far as to attempt to bribe some of our own drivers. This shows you that the victory is ours. Calhoun says that he has been driven into the last ditch, and has taken this means to compel the sympathizers of our cause to ride on the cars."

"In speaking of the resolution adopted by the San Francisco Labor Council last night, relative to the calling upon the Supervisors to have the overhead trolley franchise forfeited, Cornelius said: 'The Supervisors will be compelled to follow out our wishes in this matter. If they refuse, we will call upon the people and have the matter made an issue.'

AUTO TAKES FLYING LEAP OVER CLIFF

Turns Somersault—Occupants Are Uninjured

ALAMEDA, May 18.—Isidore Merle, a young capitalist of this city, and Arthur Joost, a chauffeur, narrowly escaped death yesterday in Redwood Canyon, where the automobile in which they were riding dropped over a cliff twenty feet in height, carrying its occupants to the bottom.

The machine turned a somersault while falling and Merle and Joost were caught in the branches of trees where they were thrown, escaping with slight injuries.

The machine was badly wrecked and it is doubtful if it can be repaired. This morning a party of workmen went to the place of the accident and will attempt to get the machine out of the canyon.

Joost was driving the machine toward the summit of Redwood Peak, when it bucked and he applied the brakes to keep it from sliding down the hill. Merle then took the wheel and attempted to back the machine. It had gone back about fifty feet when it suddenly took the plunge which carried both men with it, but that neither was hurt seemed a miracle.

Joost was scratched and cut about the face and hands and Merle sustained about the same injuries.

Frederick White, manager of the local garage, last night went to the canyon to bring Merle's machine back. As his automobile neared the top of the incline the transmission gave out and he was forced to abandon his machine and walk back home, a distance of ten miles.

MURDERER SMITH STILL AMONG THE "LOOKED FOR"

Several communications from police authorities about the country have been received by Chief of Police Wilson, relative to Ed Short, alias Frank Smith, murderer of John Marzovich. The question is asked as to whether the body found in the estuary some time ago was that of Smith.

Chief Wilson has sent word that such is not the case, as has been reported. Chief Wilson believes that Short is still a fugitive from justice, and has asked the authorities in all sections to apprehend the man if possible. No trace of the fugitive has been found, although a net has been spread all over the country in an effort to find the man. The detectives in the local department are still working on the case, but have obtained no clues.

JURY HARD TO OBTAIN

Haywood Trial Drags Along

BOISE, Idaho, May 18.—The work of securing a jury to try William Haywood on the charge that he murdered Frank Steunenberg continues to drag slowly forward and a major portion of next week will be consumed in completing the task. The sixth and seventh peremptory challenges were used before noon, the defense excusing Walter Shaw and the State W. N. Rudge. Talesman M. H. Goodwin was, after an extended contest in which the defense challenged upon several grounds, chosen to replace Shaw. Goodwin is a veteran of 72 years and his acceptance lifts the average age of the present jury to about 60 years. Shaw was only 28 years and the only very young man in the box. The argument of counsel over the challenging of Talesman Goodwin seemed to indicate a sharpening of the contest between them, a tightening of the lines along which the trial proceeded.

The Haywood family was absent again this morning and the prisoner sat alone behind his lawyers. He consulted them frequently as the examination progressed and particularly on the exercise of challenge rights. The State exercised its fourth peremptory challenge, excusing W. N. Rudge in the eighth chair.

JEALOUSY LEADS TO A SHOOTING

Injured Wife May Die From Her Wounds

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Accusing his wife of unfaithfulness, J. D. Lemmon, a clerk, residing at 25 Alameda, shot and seriously injured her during a quarrel at their home shortly after midnight this morning.

Prior to the shooting, and while his wife was retiring, Lemmon entered the room and took her to task, accusing her of being unfaithful. She resented the accusations, and the two became involved in a quarrel in which the furniture and ornaments in the room took a prominent part. Becoming enraged at his wife, Lemmon drew a revolver from his pocket and fired two shots at her. One of the shots took effect in the right hand, while the other entered her right cheek.

Officers being attracted by the sounds of shots, hurried to the scene, and placed Lemmon under arrest, charging him with assault to commit murder. Dr. A. de Marcomay, who attended the woman following the shooting, states that while she is in a critical condition, hopes are held out for her recovery. Lemmon appeared in the police court this morning to answer to the charge against him, but owing to his wife's illness, which detained her from appearing, the case went over until next Tuesday.

POSTMASTER SCHMIDT HAS GOOD RECORD

Effort to Remove Him From the Berkeley Office Should Fail.

A dispatch from Washington this morning states that efforts are being made to have Postmaster George Schmidt of Berkeley removed from office. The charge is made that Mr. Schmidt has not had the mails delivered promptly. Congressman Joseph R. Knowland and Secretary of War Victor H. Metcalf, both of whom are warm personal friends of Postmaster Schmidt, have taken up the fight in Washington and are now making Mr. Schmidt's defense. They are familiar with the conditions in Berkeley, and know that the postmaster there has tried in every way to have the mails delivered at the earliest possible moment after they arrive in his office, but that he has been greatly handicapped because of the fact that the government has not allowed him the necessary assistance.

Postmaster Schmidt has one of the largest postoffices in the State in the amount of mail handled. During the last few years the population of Berkeley has trebled. The last United States census gave Berkeley a population of 13,000, while the actual population of Berkeley today is about 42,000.

While the population of the city has greatly increased, the government has failed to increase the clerks and carriers in proportion to the growth of the city. It will therefore be seen that Postmaster Schmidt has had great obstacles to overcome.

In order to try and accommodate the Berkeley public he has spent out of his own personal salary sums ranging from $1200 to $1400 a year in order to try and keep the service up to the mark. He has appealed to the postoffice authorities in Washington time and again to give him proper assistance, and he is in hope that the requirements of his office will be provided for immediately.

Mr. Schmidt has made one of the best postmasters Berkeley has ever had. With a little assistance from the government, Mr. Schmidt will be able to have the office in first-class shape in short order. At the present time he continues to spend his own money for clerk hire in order to keep pace with the growing community.

Postmaster George Schmidt was seen by a TRIBUNE reporter this morning, and made the following statement:

"The only knowledge I had of any trouble in the Berkeley postoffice was through a dispatch appearing in one of the San Francisco papers this morning. Until I receive some official notification from the authorities at Washington I feel that it would be poor taste for me to discuss the matter. If any charges have been filed I court the fullest investigation of affairs in my office.

"I have endeavored to do my duty as postmaster in Berkeley. It must be appreciated, of course, that within the past year we have labored under unusual, unlooked-for difficulties. The business of the office has more than doubled within the past year, and it is very difficult under these conditions and the lack of help to keep the office at the high standard that I desire. Conditions are improving, however, and I hope in a short time that the affairs of the office will be in the best possible shape.

"The great demand for labor as a result of the San Francisco disaster has made it very difficult to obtain good men and many of the most experienced employees have left the service, owing to the fact that they could better their conditions in other lines of business."

THREW CAKE ON WIFE'S FACE

Domestic Difficulties of Many Pasts Lead to the Granting of Divorce Decrees.

Whether her barking met with the displeasure of the husband of only three months or not, Bessie Baker did not say, but she did tell this much in the complaint on which an interlocutory decree of divorce was granted yesterday afternoon by Judge Wastie, that Louis H. Baker threw a cake in her face, and with great force, too. She says that her husband was not as nice to her during the three months of their honeymoon as he was when he wooed her.

They were married but a few days, according to the complaint, when Baker found fault with her, and urged her to perform acts she was physically unable to do. Because of her failure to meet with his requests, Mrs. Baker says, he told her he was done with her and repeatedly told her to go home to her mother.

This she says she did but did not stay away from him very long at a time, for her mother, Mrs. Kirchner, says, and the couple sat down to the table with the old folks, her hubby slapped her violently in the face. Because of the treatment he inflicted during their first three months of married life, and at his frequent refusal to live in and fear of her, Mrs. Baker says she left her husband and took up her abode with her mother, and has since lived at the home of her parents.

In the complaint for divorce, Mrs. Baker asked that her maiden name of Bessie Kirchner be restored, but it was ignored in the divorce decrees. The couple were married in this city, April 15, 1905.

Because Myrtle M. Chapel packed up and left on September 28, 1905, Hiram G. Chapel sued for a divorce, and yesterday afternoon Judge Superior an interlocutory decree by Superior Judge Wastie. The Chapels were married December 15, 1905, and lived happily together for nineteen years until October 2, 1905, when Blake says she willfully deserted him. Mrs. Blake then took up her home with E. Wilkinson at Melrose, or at least that was the post office address at which the summons were served. Blake was given the custody of their son, Joy E. Blake.

Emery W. Farnher was given an interlocutory decree of divorce also on the grounds of willful desertion. He claimed that his wife, Helen Ann, left him January 21, 1906, after they had been married for nearly three years.

Judge Wastie granted a similar decree to George Behm and his wife, Ethel, on December 22, 1905, and went to Tonopah. The couple had been married since September 17th of the same year.

The fourth spouse to be given the interlocutory decree yesterday was Charles E. Blake. Judge Wastie con-

VIRTUES OF ALCOHOL.

The English temperance leaders have been badly hit by a manifesto in "The Lancet," signed by sixteen professors of medicine and eminent physicians, in favor of alcohol as a rapid and trustworthy restorative in disease and a beneficial article of diet. They are attempting to obtain the signatures of equally well-known professional experts to a counter-manifesto against the use of alcohol, either as a medicine or a food. It will be easy to do this and to prove that the medical profession is divided on the subject, but "The Lancet" certificate of the utility of drink in moderation will be quoted for a long period as a convincing scientific argument against the temperance movement. — New York Tribune.

CALHOUN ISSUES HIS MANIFESTO

Charges the Prosecution With Conspiracy

Immediately after the Carmen's Union had declared for a strike and only a day or so after the Grand Jury began taking up its investigation of the granting of overhead franchises to the United Railroads Company because of alleged bribery, Patrick Calhoun announced that the whole thing was an organized conspiracy against him by Spreckels and other business and political enemies.

He made this extraordinary statement exclusively to THE TRIBUNE and it was so printed in an extra at that time.

The following statement was issued by him last night. He said:

To the American People: The newspapers of this city published yesterday afternoon and this morning contain sensational statements purporting to give the testimony of Mr. Abraham Ruef before the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon. It is alleged that he confessed that the United Railroads, through some of its officials, bribed the Supervisors to grant the permit for the overhead trolley over certain of its roads. I do not know if Mr. Ruef made any such statements. If he did, they are untrue. I repeat with renewed emphasis my former declaration that no official of this company ever bribed any one, authorized Mr. Ruef or any one else to bribe anybody, knew of any bribery or approved of any bribery.

PROSTITUTED OFFICE.

I charge the prosecution with having prostituted the great office of the district attorney to further the plans of private malice in the interest of a man who organized the Municipal Street Railways of San Francisco on the 17th day of April, 1906, the day before the earthquake and fire, with a capital stock of $14,000,000, of which $4,500,000 was subscribed as follows:

CLAUS SPRECKELS SUBSCRIBED $1,900,000
JAMES D. PHELAN SUBSCRIBED 1,000,000
GEORGE WHITTELL SUBSCRIBED 500,000
RUDOLPH SPRECKELS SUBSCRIBED 1,000,000
CHARLES S. WHEELER SUBSCRIBED 100,000

Ten per cent of the amount subscribed, or $450,000, was paid in cash, as shown by the affidavit of the treasurer of the company, James K. Moffatt, duly filed in the County Clerk's office.

TESTIMONY PURCHASED.

I charge that in furtherance of the plans of the private prosecutor to secure evidence that would involve the United Railroads, the district attorney has been willing to purchase testimony with immunity contracts purporting to grant immunity to self-confessed criminals, which contracts I am informed were placed in escrow with the private prosecutor, and through which he controls a majority of the Board of Supervisors, who, as a member of the prosecution has declared, are "dogs" to do his bidding.

GEARY STREET HOLD-UP.

I charge that the district attorney was in consultation with the members of the self-confessed criminals on the Board of Supervisors in regard to the passage of the resolution holding up the Geary Street Railroad Company, and providing for the forfeiture of its licenses unless it yielded to the demands of its striking employees.

I charge that while the best element in this community was seeking to preserve law and order, that the district attorney was in secret conference with self-confessed criminals, giving aid and comfort to the strikers. Shall his great office be prostituted to the support of lawlessness?

The officials of this company are ready to meet their enemies in the open, and before they are through they expect to show to the whole country the infamy of the methods of the prosecution, the baseness of the motives of the private prosecutor, his readiness to grant immunity to self-confessed criminals and the willingness of the prosecution to aid the strikers even if it involved this community in disorder and bloodshed, provided it furthered the private prosecutor's personal ends.

PERSONAL SCHEMES.

The organization of the Municipal Street Railways of San Francisco, the attacks upon the officials of the United Railroads, the immunity granted to self-confessed criminals, the strike of the carmen, the hold-up of the Geary Street Railroad Company, the forfeiture of its license to operate, all seek one common end, the injury of the United Railroads and its officials, and the advancement of the personal schemes of the private prosecutor.

SENSATIONAL ACTION.

I ask from the American people fair play and a patient consideration. I ask them to withhold their judgment freed from the bias naturally created by sensational charges. The contest in which I am engaged is grave, and I cannot afford now to disclose the whole strength of my hand, but before this contest is over I confidently expect to defeat alike the machinations of Mr. Rudolph Spreckels, the private prosecutor with his corps of hired detectives, and Mr. Cornelius, president of the Carmen's Union, the leader of anarchy and lawlessness, and to see firmly established in this community the principles of American liberty and the triumph of truth and justice.

TO RESCIND FRANCHISE

Labor Council Calls on Supervisors to Forfeit United Roads Concession.

The San Francisco Labor Council last night adopted resolutions calling upon the Supervisors to immediately institute legal proceedings to rescind the overhead trolley franchise granted to the United Railroads after the disaster of last April. Resolutions were also passed requesting State Attorney-General Webb to begin an action to forfeit the franchises now held by the United Railroads because of the unlawful merging of the street railways of San Francisco and the illegality of the formation of said corporation. Following are the resolutions:

RESOLUTION.

Whereas, the United Railroads Company of San Francisco is a corporation which has gained great financial profits through the patronage and privilege given them by the people and the municipality of this city, and

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors is further called upon to at once institute legal proceedings to have the original franchises granted said company set aside because of non-use.

MERGER ATTACKED.

Whereas, the merging of the street railways of the city and county of San Francisco into the corporation known as the United Railroads Company was a violation of the laws of the State of California; therefore, be it Resolved, by the San Francisco Labor Council, in regular session assembled, this 17th day of May, 1907, hereby calls upon the Board of Supervisors of this city and county to begin immediate legal proceedings to have the franchises now held by the United Railroads Company, an unlawful corporation, because of the illegality of the formation of said United Railroads Company.

MAHON TALKS.

"The situation is perfectly satisfactory," said President Mahon today. "The meeting of the men Thursday night showed that they were thoroughly united and unanimous. The reports showed that there had been but two desertions. They were new men who no doubt had been sent into the union by the company. The whole situation is satisfactory to me. I have gone over the ground completely. I made a thorough examination, and am now prepared to submit my report before the national executive board. I expect to leave the first of the coming week for Detroit, the headquarters of the Amalgamated Association. I feel confident that with the support of organized labor and the general public, which they are receiving, the carmen will surely win their contest."

carmen each day," said Mr. Cornelius. "There are less people riding today than there were yesterday, and less yesterday than the day before. The people are with us. I only wish we had 100 more buses, so that we could run them on every part of the city. The people prefer any kind of a conveyance rather than ride on the cars of Mr. Calhoun, but we will do the very best we can. We have put on several additional buses today and will continue to add to the number. It is settling down now to a long, hard contest. With the people supporting us, as they are doing, there is no doubt in the minds of the carmen how the contest will result. It will be a victory for us; there is no reason to think otherwise. Organized labor stands united, knowing full well that our cause is their cause. The Building Trades Council of San Francisco and other central bodies are coming to our assistance nobly. The Building Trades Council has given us its unqualified support, both moral and financial, and has declared its intention to publish any member of its affiliated unions who is found riding on the cars of the United Railroads. They cannot look honest people in the face. We received a letter today from thirty-eight men who are confined in the Turk and Fillmore streets barn. This is a copy of their letter, which speaks for itself:

"Turk-street barn, San Francisco, May 16.—Mr. Cornelius, President Carmen's Union: There are thirty-eight of us strikers here, and we are called in this town, that intend to leave as soon as we can get our pay. Could you not in some way assist us? Our money is due, but the company is holding it back. We are all in need of the thirty-eight that will leave as soon as they can get their money. If you can do anything to make the company pay us, please do so. You have nothing to fear from this crowd.

(Signed) "A STRIKEBREAKER."

This shows that Mr. Calhoun's statements that he has all the men necessary to operate his cars is not so, and if Mr. Calhoun were now to attempt to reduce the pay of the men that he has here to what we are asking he would immediately have a strike of his non-union men.

There was a strike this morning at the San Mateo car house. There was a dispute over some financial matters and the strikebreakers refused to take out the cars. So Mr. Calhoun is confronted with the proposition of paying his old employees $3 for eight hours or paying his strikebreakers at the rate of $4.50 for eight hours. Of course we understand, if the poor strikebreakers do not, that if Mr. Calhoun succeeds in breaking the strike he will immediately reduce the wages of all the men on his system. Mr. Calhoun cannot break this strike. The union people understand the situation, and they will walk until this thing is settled and settled right."

CARPENTERS' ACT. Carpenters' Union No. 2, with a membership of nearly 4000, has adopted resolutions declaring that it will fine any member violating the laws of the city or State by interfering with strikebreakers or non-union men, and will also impose a fine on members riding on a street car operated by non-union crews. For the first offense in either instance $25 will be exacted and $10 for each succeeding offense.

The Mantel, Tile and Grate Sellers' Union will impose a fine of $25 on any member riding on a street car manned by non-union men.

The Housecarpenters' and Architectural Iron Workers' Union has decided to impose a fine of $100 on members who may be caught riding on the street cars.

WAGON WORKERS' UNION. Carriage and Wagon Workers' Union No. 6 at its last meeting voted $50 to the telephone operators on strike and a like amount to the laundry workers. An assessment of 50 cents per month was levied on all members for future strike benefits. A fine of $25 will be collected from members who ride on cars operated by non-union crews and members are urged to refrain from illegal acts or taking part in any disturbance or molesting non-union men. The union decided to parade in uniform on Labor Day. Eighteen new members were admitted. Retain Clerks' Protective Union No. 422 contributed $25 to the striking laundry workers and pledged support to the telephone operators on strike. For riding on street cars run by non-unionists $25 will be the penalty on offenders.

The Laborers' Union has followed the lead of other labor organizations and has imposed a fine of $25 upon any member detected patronizing the street cars until such time as a strike or settled. Five dollars of the fine will be given to the informant and the balance to the Street Carmen's Union.

Millmen's Union No. 423 has donated $50 to the striking car men. It levied an assessment of $1 a week on each member for the same cause.

CIGARMAKERS IN LINE. Cigarmakers' Union No. 228 has adopted resolutions denouncing Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, for his alleged attempt to destroy the Carmen's Union and pledging the strikers its moral and financial support. The union donated $50 to the carmen and $25 to the telephone operators on strike. A fine of $25 will be imposed on any member caught riding on a street car operated by strikebreakers.

Pie Bakers' Union No. 274, has decided to impose a fine of $25 on any member caught patronizing the street cars until such time as a strike or settled by non-union men, $15 to be retained by the union and $10 to go to the striking carmen. The union will give its first annual ball at Lyric Hall, on Larkin street, on Saturday evening, May 25.

MASS MEETING CALLED. A mass meeting will be held tonight at Turk and Webster streets of citizens in the Western Addition to discuss the strike of the street carmen. This is one of a series of meetings that are being held under the auspices of the Street Carmen's Union, for the purpose of educating the public and explaining the position of the carmen in their controversy with the United Railroads. The speakers will be W. G. Burton, Richard Cornelius, and P. H. McCarthy and other leaders.

A meeting was held last night under the auspices of the Carmen's Union at Maerubund Hall, Twenty-fourth street and Potrero avenue, to discuss the strike of the street carmen. Speeches urging support for the carmen and asking the people not to patronize the cars were made by Richard Cornelius, W. G. Burton, A. Serran and Frank Jordan.

TAYLOR NAMES COMMISSION

Louis Ward, W. F. Chipman and A. Latham Are Chosen and Will Be Confirmed.

ALAMEDA, May 18.—After two unsuccessful attempts to appoint a police and fire commission, Mayor Taylor last night nominated Louis Ward, W. F. Chipman and Alfred Latham for the commission and the eight members of the Council present at the committee meeting agreed to endorse the nominations of the Mayor at the regular meeting Monday night.

The nominations were made at a star-chamber session that was held after the regular committee meeting. The reporters and clerks were not allowed at the session and all of the Councilmen but E. L. Fisher were present. Whether the attitude of the men is favorable to the retention of Police Chief Conrad is not known. Many names were discussed before the Council finally agreed to the appointments of the Mayor.

The two former commissions appointed by the Mayor were not satisfactory to the Council. The six names that were submitted by Mayor Taylor at the former sessions were those of Louis Cordes, J. A. Remmell, George Emmons, E. J. Holt, George W. Scott and F. E. Mason. Mason was the only one who would agree to be confirmed, but he was left out of the list last night.

Louis Ward, one of the new members, is an insurance agent. W. F. Chipman is employed by the Southern Pacific and at one time was captain of company G, N. G. C. Alfred Latham is a painter in San Francisco who resides here.

DOESN'T KNOW CAUSE OF WRECK

General Manager E. E. Galvin Is at a Loss to Account for Tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—"I don't know what caused the wreck of the Mysic Shrinier train at Honda last Saturday. I have nothing to say about the unfortunate accident. I and fifteen of the competent officials of the Southern Pacific Company have just returned from the scene of the wreck after studying the wreckage for five hours, and all of us are at a loss to tell what caused it."

This is the official utterance of General Manager E. E. Galvin. He continued: "It can be seen there now in proper shape. There are two switches there. The train passed one of these switches and got about 15 feet beyond the other before the accident occurred. The first switch has been used since the accident to let trains pass the wreck. The second switch has not been disturbed, in order to give the engineers a chance to look it over and study it."

The brakemen on the locomotive's tender are intact, so they did not cause it. It is impossible to ascertain if there were any defective parts on the engine.

The criticisms to the effect that the company did not show every consideration possible under the circumstances to the living, injured and dead are as unjust as they are untrue."

PUTTING GALEN TO DEATH

A correspondent is desirous to know which is the most common form employed in the carrying out of the death sentence. The answer, would it that most people, if asked, would at once say the gallows, yet this is far from being the case.

The favorite mode appears to be the guillotine, which is employed in France, Prussia, Denmark, Hungary, and in two cantons of Switzerland; and privately in Bavaria, Saxony and also in two cantons of Switzerland.

The guillotine is used publicly in the running of the guillotine in Prussia, Portugal, and Russia, and privately in Great Britain and the United States.

Death by the sword obtain in fifteen cantons in Prussia, in China, Russia, and in Prussia privately. Ecuador, Oldenburg and Russia have adopted the musket, all publicly; while in China they have adopted the musket, both public and in Brunswick death by the ax, and in the electric chair in New York. Italy there is no capital punishment.

OUR NATIONAL SONGS.

Most of our national songs were written at some point in our history when they were called forth. The origin of many of our popular songs seems to have been associated with some peculiar circumstances in the very life when war with France seemed probable, the well-known song of "Hail Columbia" was written by a young Philadelphia young man, and a young actor and singer of some note, who was in the Philadelphia theater, and he asked Mr. Hopkinson, who was a friend of his, to write a patriotic song for him to sing at the Philadelphia March. The President's March, then a popular air. The request was made on Saturday afternoon, the song was written and sung on the following Monday evening. Mr. Hopkinson consented and the announcement was made that the song was received with great enthusiasm. Mr. Fox being recalled to the fact that the song was written at a time when war with France seemed probable, the song was called the "National Song of the time."—Maxwell's Tullisman.

The Old Caliskin Shoe Lace.

The modern boot lace is anything but a luxury. It is nearly always just too long or a little too short, and, although made flat, it soon becomes curled with a little wear. In the old days laces were made of calfskin, and nearly every farmer was an expert. He would cut a disk of leather three or four inches in diameter, stick the point of a sharp knife blade in the center, and then roll it over the edge of a board, place the thumb and forefinger of the other hand on it and quickly draw the string through the opening, the perimeter being reduced the thickness of a match at every measure of the circumference. When the square string was rolled between the sole of the shoe and the floor until perfectly round, after which it was pressed with tallow. Such a lace would last for months. Round laces are now made of flax, but their shine soon wears off, giving them a much worn appearance.

MUCH MONEY IS NEEDED TRUSTEE AT OUTS WITH POLICEMAN

Trouble Brewing Over Salary Question

BERKELEY, May 18.—Trustee F. F. Conner of the first ward is at odds with certain members of the police force. He has called down on himself a bitter attack from the department that is likely to break into open hostilities unless a settlement of the salary question is arrived at.

When the Board of Trustees met last Monday night there was a petition presented asking for a substantial raise for patrolmen, sergeants and detectives. It was Trustee Conner who shouldered the burden and relieved his co-workers from an embarrassing situation. Trustee Conner said: "The town of Berkeley is paying all it can afford to pay for the police department. If we raise the salaries to meet this schedule, let us order the chief to reduce the force by displacing men and those who are retained at the increased rate are not paid in the aggregate more than is now called for on the payroll. Chief Vollmer, how many men can you lay off to meet the requirements of this action, if we raise the salaries to the figure asked?"

"I cannot lay off any of the men and give the city the police protection necessary," replied Chief Vollmer.

Finally the schedule was referred to Chief Vollmer to report on one way or the other. This passed the matter up to the chief for action, but clearly stating that if he advised raising the salaries he must discharge men to balance the rate.

"The board simply shifted responsibility to me," said Chief Vollmer to-day, "and so far as I am concerned, letting their request pass into oblivion. Living expenses are too high for them to live decently, they say, and they are asking only a reasonable raise to meet the new conditions. They are very bitter at Trustee Conner, who they say, has a lucrative position and does not care for police needs. Unless the men change their minds, petitions will be circulated among Berkeleys asking the Board of Trustees to grant the raise without reference to the opposition of Mr. Conner, and the officers say they will be able to get signatures of more than a majority of the residents in Conner's ward to this effect."

WHEELER TO GO, SAY FACULTY

Believe His Resignation Will Be Announced After He Reaches Boston.

BERKELEY, May 18.—Although President Wheeler will not discuss the offer he has received from the Massachusetts School of Technology, there is a feeling here that he will accept the offer and will leave the University of California. Many of the students and faculty members of the faculty think he will arrange to return to Boston while he is in the "Hub" city and will announce his retirement from the East.

The reason given for this belief is that boards of trustees or regents usually know beforehand the possibilities for acceptance from those to whom they propose offering the presidency of a university. An indication that the offer has been received makes them think President Wheeler has decided to return to his native State.

Another reason advanced is that there is an impression with many here that President Wheeler prefers a more active life and associations to the Western. He has been successful in his work here and has friends not only in the State, but throughout the entire world.

ALAMEDA AND CONTRA COSTA COUNTIES

BUS AND CAR IN OPPOSITION

Former Platform Man Starts
Competing Line to Hayward Depot.

HAYWARD, May 18.—Peter Nissen, a former employee of the Oakland Traction Company, has put a bus in operation on B street and will compete with the company for the traffic to and from the Southern Pacific depot.

Hayward proposes to be a manufacturing center. It already has its canning and its pickle factory. Now it proposes to go into shirt-making and shirt manufacturing, as an advertisement in the local papers indicates. Jesse Woods is seeking forty ladies to start the business. If they can be found, the business will be started at once in the old glove factory at the corner of First and D streets.

The secular observances attending the celebration of Pentecost will begin tonight at Native Sons' Hall, where the Portuguese societies will hold their religious until midnight. Tomorrow there will be the customary procession of the crown in which the catholic societies will participate.

The Oakland Traction Co. is running a line along the center of Castro street, and this is taken as an evidence of their intention to run a single instead of a double track through town. Castro street is to be graded from curb to curb as soon as the company completes its work. Once that is accomplished, says Secretary Wilbert of the Business Men's Association, it will be a difficult matter thereafter for the O. T. Co. to obtain a franchise for a double track.

The Business Men's Association gained three new members at its meeting on Thursday evening. There are now sixty names on the roll.

President Banbury announced that Governor Gillet had given him assurance that he would be present at the banquet next Thursday evening if at all possible. Plans for the affair are now completed and its success assured.

MUSICIAN FAINTS AND HIS DEATH FOLLOWS

VALLEJO, May 18.—Professor Paul Boulton, a famous bell known on the coast, fainted Thursday night after playing at a banquet at the opening of the Masonic Hall. An hour later he was dead. Professor Boulton had made his home here for several years, playing in other cities each season. He leaves a widow.

SANTA ROSA IS FLOWER GARBED

Juvenile Rose Carnival Breaks all Records and Is Scene of Great Beauty.

SANTA ROSA, May 18.—The juvenile rose carnival opened here today with the City of Roses garbed in all of the beauty which nature has so abundantly bestowed upon it. In the morning parade were numerous brightly decorated floats which had been prepared by the women under whose auspices the carnival is given. The attendance from out-of-town points broke all local records. The scene along the line of parade was one of great beauty.

Little Queen Geraldine had a court of the brightest and handsomest children to be found in Sonoma county. Her personal maid of honor was Miss Jeanette Smith, while the other maids of honor were Miss Effie Potter of Santa Rosa, Miss Dorothy Rowland of Eureka, Miss Lesley Loga of Cloverdale, Miss Gladys Simons of Sonoma and Miss Helen Motord of Sebastopol.

Besides the maids of honor there were six pages—Reynolds Dunbar, Perry Buchanan, Edson Meland, Everett Dibble, Dwight Barnett and William Carner. The two knights who lead the parade and acted as escort to the queen party were Weston Anderson and Roy Kendall. Dorothy Seawell, Elizabeth Thompson and Katherine Presley were the eunuchs, while Fritz Baxton was crown bearer and Calvin Roiser was prime minister and master of ceremonies at the coronation.

Many automobiles filled with the children of the city were in line. Following the parade, after luncheon, the coronation was held.

The music for the day was furnished by the Columbia Park Boys' Band from San Francisco, under the leadership of Major Sidney Polkoto of the National Guard of California.

The first reinforced concrete building in this town is about to be erected on Thirty-sixth avenue, close to East Fourteenth street, for the Fruitvale Progress. Material for its construction is now being hauled to the ground.

The fire commissioners have petitioned the Board of Supervisors to establish an arc light on Bassett street, opposite the engine house.

The residents of Leise avenue have asked the commissioners to erect and maintain a hydrant at the corner of Leise avenue and the old county road. They accompanied their request with a purse of $50, which they had raised among themselves for the purpose of defraying the expense.

Former Acting Mayor of Santa Rosa Accused of Passing Worthless Notes.

SANTA ROSA, May 18.—There was further evidence given yesterday at the trial of the Exchange Bank suit to show former Acting Mayor Veirs in the light of a forger. Assistant Cashier F. M. Burris of the Santa Rosa Bank corroborated the cashier's testimony of Thursday that Veirs once tried to pass a check with his wife's name forged thereto at the bank.

George Ulrich of San Francisco testified that Veirs once wanted him to take $1100 worth of notes bearing the signature of Mrs. Veirs and other relatives to secure a loan of $300.

Mrs. Hattie Cavanagh, Mrs. Annie Veirs and W. R. Roberts positively denied that they had ever signed any notes for Veirs. Several other people here hold Veirs' notes signed with his own and the signatures of his wife and other relatives. All these signatures are declared to be forgeries.

OUT OF HIS LINE.

"I hear you use hypnotism," said the woman, "and I want you to try it on my husband. He's suffering dreadfully."

"All right," responded the dentist, "bring him in."

"Bring him in?" Why, say, unless you hypnotize him first he can't be dragged within ten blocks of your office."

"Absent treatment of my line," responded the professional man, somewhat coldly.

ELECTION DAY IN FRUITVALE

Voting on Proposition to Tax
District for Benefit of Volunteer Department.

FRUITVALE, May 18.—An election is being held today to allow the taxpayers of Fruitvale an opportunity to vote for or against the proposition to levy a tax on the district for the support of Fire Department No. 1, in Fruitvale, and Fire Department No. 2, in Dimond. The coming fiscal year. The amount to be levied is fixed in the proclamation at $7000, of which $2250 will be for a new gasoline engine for Dimond, $4000 for maintenance of Department No. 1, and the balance for installation of ten new fire plugs, engineer's salary, the purchase and maintenance of an engine house, water, telephone service and material for the construction of a new engine house for the Dimond Fire Company.

It was for the purpose of showing the voters what they were getting for their money that the recent parade of the fire department was made through the district. The fire boys have worked hard up to date to raise funds for the proper housing of the paraphernalia and their own equipment. A visit to their quarters will show the voters today that these funds and the allowance made by the town last year have been wisely and economically spent.

A vote in favor of the tax will be received by the volunteers as a mark of appreciation for what they have already accomplished.

The voting is going on at the engine house in Bassett street, where the polls opened at 8 o'clock this morning, and will close at 5 o'clock this evening.

FIND MAN GUILTY IN SHORT ORDER

Fruit Sells for Good Prices at Martinez

MARTINEZ, May 18.—Henry Boose was convicted in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon on the charge of burglary in the first degree. Boose was arrested at Richmond last winter with others for robbing the Moyle shoe store. A series of robberies had occurred there during the winter and it was only after several months of hard work that the officers succeeded in capturing Boose. He, with a number of negroes, was conducting an opium joint and when the officers raided the joint much of the stolen plunder was recovered. Among the places robbed was the Richmond postoffice, but nothing from the water place was recovered. J. J. McNamara was foreman of the jury yesterday and it took them just eight minutes to render a verdict of guilty. Boose will be sentenced next week by Judge Wells.

The suit of the Bay Point and Clayton Railroad was concluded in the Superior Court Wednesday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict assessing the land at $870 and awarded the defendant damages for $2000.

A painter by the name of Kelley was arrested a few days ago by Constable Palmer on a warrant issued at the request of the Martinez Hotel charging him with attempting to defraud the hotel out of a board bill. Kelley has been here for some time doing odd jobs at his trade with a partner. Several days ago, it is said, they planned to leave town and forget the bill. The partner left, but Kelley failed to make connections with the train and the hotel caught him. He was taken before Judge Hayden and on his promise to pay the bill, was released. The charge is being held against him, however, pending the settlement of the account.

Pat Dempsey was arrested yesterday by the officers on the charge of petty larceny. It is alleged that he stole a pair of shoes from the room of one of the guests at the Martinez Hotel. He will be given a chance to plead before Judge Hayden.

Vallejo's Citizens Would Remove
Messrs. Deininger, O'Reilly and Brownlie.

VALLEJO, May 18.—As provided for in the recent amendments of the city charter, petitions for the recall of City Trustees J. F. Deininger, Joseph P. O'Reilly and J. E. Brownlie, are now being circulated here and are receiving many endorsements. The request for the municipal authorities to call a special election at which the recall provisions of the charter may be enforced in regard to these three trustees, comes as the result of their action in refusing for more than one year to give the Mayor the necessary consent to bring suit against the George H. Tay Company for damages resulting from that firm furnishing to the city pipe, which has been found to be short $12,000 worth in weight and thickness, on an $80,000 contract.

Through the long controversy which has dragged on for more than a year the three trustees have steadfastly opposed any action that would not be most favorable to the Tay Company, and it is owing to their stand that the city has not sued the contractors.

It was partly with a view to obtaining some redress that the provision for the recall of unsatisfactory officials was framed in the charter amendments upon which the people of Vallejo voted last a few months ago, passing them by a large majority. No effort to use this provision of the charter has been made until now, however, but the action of Trustees Deininger, O'Reilly and Brownlie in passing by a three to two vote the resolution authorizing the Board of Public Works to proceed with the laying of the pipe has brought the matter to a climax and the electors of Vallejo are prepared to push the matter to a finish.

Inner Harbor Improvements.

One of the conspicuous developments of the present time in Oakland is the vast extent of the improvements which are in progress in the inner harbor. Wherever the frontage is free from litigation it is being put in order to accommodate commerce.

Of course, the greater part of these improvements lies on the Oakland side of the harbor. But it is not restricted wholly to it. Important commercial changes are taking place along the Alameda shore line, where many industries have been recently established and many new warehouses have been erected and are now in course of construction. The whole water front, on both sides of the inner harbor is practically undergoing rapid transformation. What remains of the marshes is being reclaimed to the bulkhead line. The area between the bulkhead and pierhead lines, the bulk of which has passed into private ownership, is being covered with wharves and the channel alongside these is being dredged to make them accessible to deep sea shipping, for the commerce of the harbor has increased by leaps and bounds during the past twelvemonth with every indication that it will make still greater demands for increased facilities in the near future.

Oakland, it should be remembered, has recently become the great lumber center of San Francisco bay, and in fact the largest lumber market on the Pacific Coast. Great yards stretch along the water front on each side of the inner harbor for miles. Much of the area now occupied by them was untenanted a year or so ago. Some of the more notable improvements made and in course of construction along the water front are devoted to the use of this industry.

The centralizing of the lumber trade in Oakland harbor has made it the home port of the entire lumber fleet of the Pacific Coast. That means the entry and departure to and from this harbor of a large proportion of the marine tonnage engaged in the coast trade. It is, in fact, the most important branch of coast commerce, for it employs the greater number of vessels and the larger aggregate of the coast tonnage in commission. We doubt very much whether the majority of the citizens of Oakland understand the full importance and value of this fact, because they have not given it that intelligent thought or consideration which the case warrants. This class will wake up in a few months to a full realization of the situation, and discover, what they have not apparently suspected to be in the course of development, that Oakland harbor is in fact, and not in name only, a commercial port of great and growing importance, possessing facilities for shipping much more extensive than it was dreamed of twelve months ago to be able to develop in so short a period. It is today practically the lumber market of the Pacific Coast.

Another year promises to produce more marvelous results on the harbor frontage than have been produced during the past twelve months. What has been done, and what promises to be developed in a very brief period, ought to revolutionize the ideas of Congress and the notions of the United States army engineers regarding Oakland's harbor status as a commercial port and produce a more liberal and enlightened policy toward it than has been followed in the past. The army engineers in charge have heretofore favored government aid to Oakland's harbor improvement only half heartedly, as if this city were merely an alms-receiver. Their advocacy of Congressional appropriations has never been accompanied with any degree of enthusiasm, for the reason either that they have allowed their judgment to be warped by influences interested in preventing Oakland's commercial development, or they have not had an intelligent appreciation of the situation. It took a violent earthquake and the biggest conflagration on record to serve as an eye-opener, and no one who desires to see can remain blind to what is taking place on the city's water front and the important bearing it has upon the harbor's future.

THE SOUVENIR (STEALING) CRAZE.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I am not a Wilcox or a Fairfax or a Laurie—just a subscriber to your paper, a reader and a believer in its doctrines, and I have an opinion just the same as a person and wish to state that there is one subject upon which I have seen nothing written, one that should be discussed, so I take the liberty of offering an opinion or suggestion. The matter of polite stealing (the souvenir craze), get a souvenir even though you have to steal it from your best friend, is the idea. I have in my possession one pair sugar tongs, stamped "The Claypool," Indianapolis, Ind.; one spoon with "So. Pac. Ry." stamped upon it; another from a hotel at Bellingham, Cal. These have been left at different times by friends who have visited the family. Forgot them? Of course they did; they never would have parted with such treasured possessions.

Some will laugh, perhaps, and say that this is a great exposition of the caliber of one's friends, but I feel that, even though they were good, honest ladies and gentlemen, there was something wrong in their make-up. They have educated themselves up to the habit of souvenir collecting and it has now gotten to be a virtue in their eyes. I have in mind one girl who had the bravado to recall the friends from whom she had stolen souvenirs. Another girl, one who has since married and who now has a celebrated collection for the sideboard, told me the number of spoons she had collected from different places—homes, hotels, dining cars, cafes, etc. I invariably remonstrated with these different parties, but the look they gave me was so suggestive that I was away behind the times.

Is this not an evil? Fortunately I have not caught the habit and should I have done so, this great collection would humiliate me beyond description. I am sure I would never put it out where it could be seen, so then what's the good of it? My own sideboard has suffered losses. Let others who have had like experience speak.

It is much more in order that people who indulge in taking other people's property should be punished, branded or ostracized than the poor little street Arab who steals his neighbor's chick or a loaf of bread from the far-off butcher.

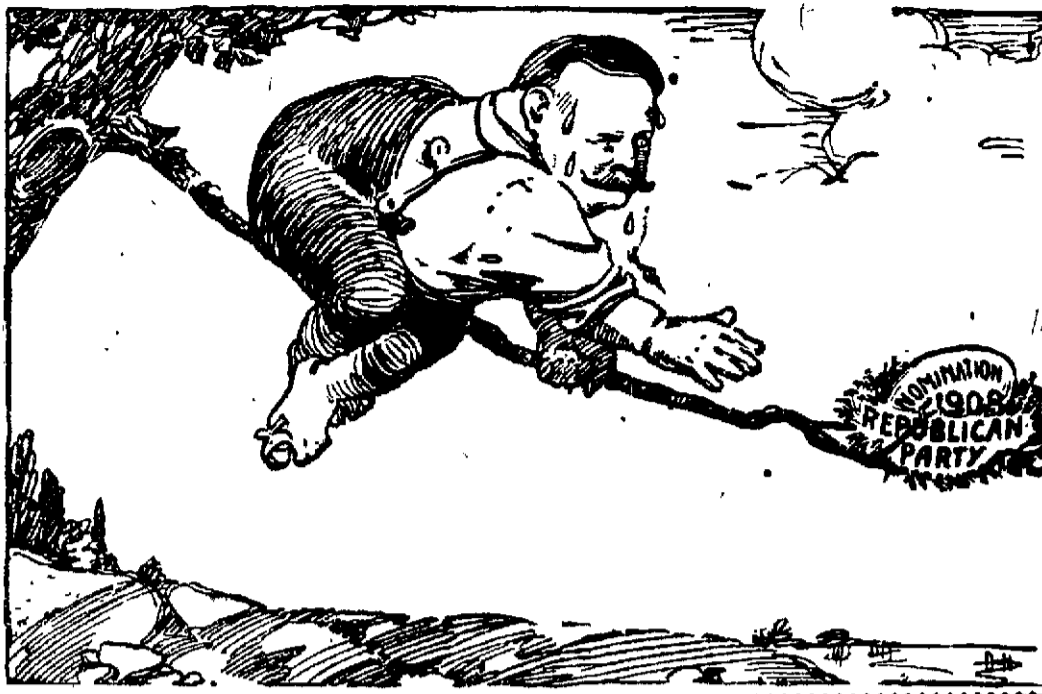

Yours truly, S. K. M'FALL.

Oakland, Cal., May 10, 1907.

DECORATIVE SHRUBS.

In locating shrubs do not make the mistake of putting them between the house and street, unless for the express purpose of shutting off an unsightly thoroughfare. A small lawn loses its dignity when broken up by trees, shrubs or flower beds. Leave it to itself and it will impart a sense of breadth and distance which will make the yard seem larger than it really is. Planting things all over it destroys this effect. The best location, therefore, for shrubs on small places is along the sides of the lot, or at the rear of it, far enough beyond the dwelling to serve as a sort of background for it.

WILL HE REACH IT?

French Grape Growers Suffering.

The vineyardists of France are in a bad way, being unable to dispose of their crops. Matters have been going from bad to worse with them for years, because of the fraudulent manipulation by their own manufacturers of foreign wines and their adulteration by chemical concoctions from the laboratories in their unscrupulous eagerness to make money without regard to the damaging consequences to the industry of grape-growing in their own country or the final fate of the French wine trade.

For over a quarter of a century the French wine manufacturers have been drawing on California producers for raw wine, which they doctored and blended with their own wines and with the chemical adulterants which the Parisian laboratories have been developing. These doctored California wines were then shipped all over the world under French names and labels as French wines. Connoisseurs were even deceived, so skillfully had the French chemists manipulated their adulterants. The English and American markets were flooded with these French imitations.

Of course, such dishonesty could not be carried on indefinitely without detection. When suspicion of fraud began to dawn on the intelligence of American and British consumers that the French-labeled wines they were drinking were adulterated articles, the French manufacturers, in order to save themselves, promptly charged California wine manufacturers with selling inferior wines under imitation labels. For a time this false charge was credited. California wines suffered abroad. The wine-growing industry in this State was paralyzed and it narrowly escaped actual destruction, as the market prices of the raw product would not cover the cost of production. The plow was turned into the vineyards and hundreds of acres of producing vines disappeared. It took years of hard work on the part of those who were most interested in the survival of the industry to rehabilitate it. Now California wine-growing is on a sound and healthy basis. Grape growers and winemakers and wine-exporters are making money. Pure California wine is selling abroad as a California product. Of course, it is still in more or less competition, as a pure article, with the California wine which the French manufacturers continue to doctored and sell under their own labels and brands. But consumers abroad of the pure wines of this State are becoming more discriminating and they more readily detect the doctored article selling under false colors. Meantime the dishonesty of the French manufacturers and exporters has been so thoroughly exposed that reaction has set in, which is not only damaging their trade but imperiling the whole industry of wine-growing in France. It is causing great distress among the growers and is leading to a state of disorder in the grape-growing districts which requires the intervention of troops.

ANOTHER CONSOLIDATED NAME SUGGESTED.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: As a subscriber and daily reader of your excellent paper, I would, as a citizen and taxpayer, like to give expression to a few thoughts along the line of betterments, improvements and the economical administration of affairs on the east side of the San Francisco bay. It is gratifying to see that sentiment is rapidly forming in favor of annexation and consolidation of the cities on the east side of the bay. And the citizens and taxpayers can now look forward with fond expectancy to the time when we shall all be united under one city and county government. Then, and not until then, can we hope for relief from the burdens that are ever pressing down upon us. Even now the taxes are altogether too high and the tendency is to increase them all the time. Under a consolidated city and county government our taxes should be less than half what they are now. Then we can afford to issue bonds for betterments and improvements, but under the present system of government with many officials and high salaries, we cannot afford to vote a million or so in bonds every three or four months. And if we do there can be but one ending. The old city hall will do for a year or two until we get a city and county government; then we can build a fine city and county hall.

Let us arrange for consolidation first and a suitable name afterwards. If we have the city teaming with population and commerce, under a proper and economical form of government, any name will sound good—even Temescal. And that would be even better than many of the names that have been suggested by your correspondents—made up of letters or words taken from the names of the three cities, such as Ala-Oak-Berk, etc., or Berk-Oak-Ala. Why some of them would give a sensible man the headache. California City, as was suggested by some one, would be all right and the best. But if we must, for the sake of harmony and to satisfy pride or vanity, select a name from the three cities which now form a part of what is destined to be the biggest and finest city on the western shores of this continent, let us take from Oakland, as she is the biggest; the four last letters and the last syllable; from Berkeley, as she is next in size, the three last letters and last syllable; from Alameda, as she is least in size, the two last letters and last syllable. As Berkeley is taking the lead we will place her three letters first in the combination, word or name, and Oakland's four letters next, and we have Eyland-da. G. N. SIMMONS.

TWO GIRLS GO ON A LARK AND THEN TRY TO JUMP OVERBOARD

Their Father Was Waiting to Scold Them

RICHMOND, Va., May 12.—Mrs. Henry Stutz and her young sister, Miss Nellie Greenstreet, attempted suicide this morning by jumping over the side of the Old Dominion steamship Berkeley. They were saved from death by the timely watchfulness of the steward of the boat and a negro porter, who caught hold of their dresses just as they were disappearing over the side. The two women, who are little more than girls, left Richmond Sunday night aboard the steamer Berkeley, in company with John Bester in the lists of the ship's passengers as men and wives. They remained in Norfolk until last night when they again boarded the steamer on their way back to Richmond.

Just as the passengers were leaving the boat the two women saw their father waiting for them at the gangplank. They rushed back through the saloon and onto the deck and over the rail. When the steward and the porter clutched their gowns the women fought desperately, and it was only after a prolonged struggle that they at last were got into a stateroom. Miller ran from the boat and escaped, but was later captured. Wright expressed his determination to stand by the women and take the consequences of his acts.

Mrs. Stutz and Miss Greenstreet became frantic when they learned that it would be necessary to lock them up. They both refused to come out of their staterooms. Mrs. Stutz, in particular, fought with the strength of a maniac to keep the officers away. With her clothing torn in her frantic struggles she was at last borne in the arms of two sturdy policemen to a waiting carriage. Miss Greenstreet fainted soon after she started for the carriage and had to be carried also.

Miss Greenstreet, besides her father and mother, had to face her fiancé before she was taken to the station house. After the first salutations, the young woman burst into tears and declared that she did not realize the enormity of her offense when she left the city with Wright, and begged to be forgiven. For answer the young man folded the girl in his arms. He said that he would marry her as soon as the present trouble was over, as he did not believe the girl was conscious of what she was doing.

Stutz said that he was at present suing his wife for divorce and that this occurrence would surely be sufficient to enable him to be freed. His only stipulation is that he be allowed possession of his four-year-old child. The case will be heard in the police court tomorrow morning.

Arm Comparison Is to Conclude That Day

"I live out on College avenue," writes a young Berkeley matron, "and am to be a candidate for success in your trophy tourney to establish who can pose before a camera most charmingly, and also to identify the owner of the prettiest pair of arms in this county. My arms and shoulders are rather heavy, but they taper nicely, and my hands are good and my wrists small. I shall strive to win the prize—the silk stockings—for shapeliest arm. It may be that my attitude before the camera will be voted most charming and then I will be awarded the box of gloves. If I am the lucky one to get the gloves I hope they will be the $2.50 kind—moussquetaires—elbows."

"Send me a free photo order, Philias," exclaims a "bachelor girl" residing on Telegraph avenue, Berkeley. "For I shall surely be a genuine volunteer in the competition. I hope to be known as a great actress some day, like Mary Anderson; and I am said to resemble her in figure, when she was about my age, and in stage talent. If I am selected in this rivalry of arms as most proficient in graceful posing, you see it will help me interest the managers, theatrically speaking, in my future."

A Central avenue, Alameda, recruit remarks: "Everybody tells me I have the handsomest arms possible. So I am going to let you have a likeness of me. I am about 20 years old and slender of build, but not tall. In the view which I shall send you I am represented in a party dress; but I want you to let me know if it fails to do me justice. It would make me feel quite 'scrumptious' if that hosliery should become mine."

Women Hunker After Black Sheep

"No wonder women proverbially hunker after the black sheep of a family," the New York Press quotes a woman as saying, "they are so interesting, and the white ones are such beastly bores. If there's anything I fly from it is the goody-goody man, the abstemious man, the man who doesn't do anything at all that anybody else does. I met one the other night. He didn't smoke, he said, because he disliked the odor of smoke about his clothing. He didn't chew. It was an abominable practice. He didn't drink. It was a terrible thing to him, he said, to watch people lose their senses under the influence of liquor. He was, moreover, he promptly informed me, a man of honor."

"I couldn't help thinking to myself while he was bragging about all this," she finished, "that, rather than live with such a monumental paragon of all the virtues, I'd take in washing."

This Girl Has Made a Record

A girl seventeen years of age has accomplished the extraordinary feat of ascending a church spire 250 feet high in the teeth of a gale of wind. The stepladder had undertaken to ascend the spire of All Saints, Hereford, the highest in the west of England, when Miss Elsie Hains, the daughter of one of the church wardens, volunteered to accompany him. The ascent was made by means of a stepladder's cradle. In spite of the force of the wind and of the swaying of the cradle the girl, says the stepladder, was remarkably cool all through the perilous ascent and descent. Needless to say, the spire had never been ascended before by any except male climbers. The ascent was made on market day, and a great crowd watched in thrilling suspense every movement of the swaying cradle. Traffic was entirely blocked by the crowd until the girl had gained the summit, descended again and reached the ground safe and unharmed.

Hat Is Named After This Lady

Lady Suffolk enjoys the rare honor of having a hat named after her. It bids fair to become as famous as the Gainsborough. The hat, which comes from the workshop of a celebrated French hat designer, is built upon the dish shape. Its brim turns down all the way around, but one side is lifted upon a bandeau. Under the lifted side there are three red roses—American Beauty, pale red and pinkish red. The Suffolk hat, in its original, is a pale gray. It is trimmed around the crown with some deep gray roses, and under one side there are three roses in varying shades of gray. Thus it becomes a semi-mourning hat.

THIS COUPLE LIVES TO SEE ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIX HEIRS

Made a Record for Their Country

MITCHELL, S. D., May 12.—If other people followed in the footsteps of David and Louisa Walton in the matter of raising a family, President Roosevelt would have no occasion to exhortate the public on the matter of race suicide. David Walton and wife, whose ages are 85 and 82 years, respectively, reside in Hand county, South Dakota, and enjoy the distinction of counting their descendants by the score. In their declining days, when age prevents the strenuous labors so long practiced in their active lives on the farm, they can view with smiling complacency and indifference the fear of race suicide.

After sixty-four years of wedded life, this couple have recorded the birth of fifteen children, 117 grandchildren, and forty-six great-grandchildren—all of whom are living with the exception of two of their own children, six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren, which makes a total of 166 children now living, and many of whom live within the borders of Hand county.

WERE PIONEERS IN WEST. David Walton was born in Jackson county, Ohio, October 21, 1821, and was married to Louisa Carl, in Cedar county, Iowa, in 1842, where they were among the early pioneer settlers of that county. Mr. Walton has always been a farmer, and notwithstanding the fact that he lost a part of an arm in a thrashing machine when a young man, he has always labored in all kinds of work incident to farm life. He has been a powerful man, 6 feet 3-1/2 inches high, and weighs 225 pounds. His wife is a woman of nearly as large proportions and weighs 200 pounds. This remarkable physique runs through the entire family, all the children attaining large proportions as to weight and height. Of the fifteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. Walton, eight were boys and seven were girls, all of the boys standing 6 feet and over. They are all alive except one son and one daughter.

Of this family all except two girls came with the parents to Hand county in 1883. At home at present are Charles, Henry, David, William, Mrs. Irving Parks, Mrs. John Scoville, Mrs. Abe Snyder, and their families residing in Hand county. Lewis, James, and Lincoln live in Nebraska, Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Watson in Iowa, and Mrs. Carter in Oklahoma. At least one family of grandchildren equal the original family of fifteen, and several of them have reached a dozen.

SEPARATE AFTER 19 YEARS, BUT NEITHER WILL GET A DIVORCE

Cannot Marry Again if They Want to

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 12.—Mr. and Mrs. William N. Woodward, of Kansas City, Kan., decided to separate without divorce.

Mrs. Woodward belongs to the Methodist Episcopal church, and doesn't believe in divorce. Accordingly an agreement was reached whereby there should be a separation. Neither is allowed to marry again.

Mr. Woodward, who is a real estate dealer, filed three documents in the office of the recorder of deeds of Wyandotte county today. One was a warranty deed, in which he transferred his property to his wife. Another sets forth terms of agreement. The third gives to Mrs. Woodward the power of attorney transferring to the wife the power to sign her husband's name in all sales of property.

Mr. Woodward agrees to abide by the will which Mrs. Woodward shall leave at death. She, in turn, agrees to the same conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward have lived in Kansas City, Kan., nineteen years. They have six children: living, the husband and wife have now been living apart one year.

DRESSMAKERS TELL THE SAD TRUTH TO SOME OF OUR WOMEN

They Are Told That They Are Lopsided

Sooner or later, the dressmaker tells each woman of us the sad, inevitable truth that she has to cut our skirts longer on one side than the other, and that the left shoulder is an inch or so higher than the right, or vice versa. It is a trying moment. We are never quite ready for it. But manifestly the only thing to do is to receive the information with courage, and whenever we remember that we sag over to one side, to lean determinedly to the other.

There is no dressmaker to point out to us, unfortunately, the kindred sagging of our minds as we grow older. The woman who is not one-sided in her mind at forty is far rarer than she of the perfect figure. It is so fatally easy to lean toward household affairs, or dress, or club life, or charitable work, or bridge, or Christian Science, or matrimony, or saving money, or extravagance, or the New Thought, or bookishness, or gossip, or women's rights, instead of preserving the perfect balance of a well-rounded mind. The practical certainty of being somewhat one-sided may be conceded perhaps; yet the fact that she recognizes her special leaning may be a woman's saving grace. The woman who does not realize that her mind sags is the woman whose mental charms cease to please her family and friends, gradually but fatally. The woman who does realize that she has a tendency toward too many charities, and who, thereupon, determines to be helpful to her superiors and equals as well as to the poor, gains at once in poise and influence. The woman who has been making dress too much of a factor, and who turns her effort to adorning her mind and heart as well as her figure, becomes much more attractive thereby. Not to give up the favorite leaning, but to balance the sag, is the art of successful mental carriage. Balance is the secret of living; it preserves youth; it keeps fresh the emotions and the thoughts; it brings one in sympathy with all, not alone with a few.

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale Her infinite variety" is perhaps the wisest touch in the charm of Shakespeare's "Cleopatra." One-sidedness is a mistake that the woman who desires to influence her world, be it large or small, can never afford to make, and should continually and carefully guard against.

TWO VASSAR GIRLS MAKE RECORDS IN THE CLASS OF HIGH JUMPING

Here Are Some Exceedingly Athletic Girls

POUGHKEEPSIE, May 12.—Mildred Vilas, '07, of Cleveland, O., and Inez Mitholland, '09, two of the most popular students, established new athletic records at Vassar. Miss Vilas made a fence vault of 4 feet 10 3/4 inches. The previous record was 4 feet 10 1/2 inches, made by D. E. Merrill, '02, in 1901.

Miss Mitholland, a beautiful English girl, who is taking a course at Vassar in preparation for woman's suffrage work in England, and who is regarded as one of the strongest women ever at the college, put the eight-pound shot 21 feet 1 1/4 inches, breaking the record of 22 feet 11 1/2 inches, made by M. H. White in 1902.

The surprise of the day was the poor showing of the two present students who hold championships, Alice H. Belding, '07, holder of two records, 7 feet 6 inches in standing broad jump and 126 feet 8 inches in baseball throwing, and Martha Gardner, '07, holder of 100-yard hurdle record, 16 1/2 seconds, and running broad jump, 14 feet 6 1/2 inches. Neither champion was able to equal her record, while in the hurdle race and baseball throwing they were surpassed by sophomore and freshmen.

The sophomore won the honors of the day, exceeding their own best expectations with 43 points. When it was announced that 1907 had won 24 points a mighty shout of "skiddoo" went up from the side lines where the sophomores were cheering their successful athletes; 1910 won 20 points and 1908 got 13.

The day was cold and damp. The games were set for 8:30 in the morning, but rain had made the track so soft that a postponement was announced to 1 o'clock, when the contests took place. Class rivalry and the enthusiasm ran so high that in spite of the cold nearly a thousand girls in sweaters and ulsters stood about the oval for three hours, while the athletes, in bloomers and blouses, carried the fortunes of their respective classes on track and field. Every one was physically fit, and the average of endurance displayed was higher than ever before.

MARRYING WIDOW HAS BEEN THE CAUSE OF MUCH TROUBLE

Four Husbands to Her Record Up to Date

Mrs. Frances M. Howick-Tucker-Mee-Glenn, nee Sanderson.

If hyphens were in style that would be the full name of the bride whose $2000 worth of diamonds were lost Thursday morning after a honeymoon of twelve hours in Independence, Mo. Mrs. Mee-Glenn, the missing husband, is the woman's fourth.

Mrs. Glenn's maiden name was Miss Frances M. Sanderson, and she lived in Bagley, Ia. There she was married to Eli Howick. While the couple lived at the Commercial Hotel Dr. J. H. Tucker, a traveling physician, was a guest at the same hotel. An estrangement between Mr. and Mrs. Howick took place. Dr. Tucker moved to Des Moines, Ia., where he afterward married Mrs. Howick. That was in 1892.

Several years later Mrs. Tucker was granted a divorce from Dr. Tucker, but the two continued to live in the same house. In December, 1904, Dr. Tucker committed suicide. A servant girl, who had been mentioned in the divorce proceedings, drank carbolic acid the same day. She died a few days afterward.

Mrs. Tucker came to Kansas City. Then came the marriage to C. G. Mee, an engineer, who lives at the Denmore Hotel. They were divorced a week ago last Wednesday. Mr. Mee says he gave the woman the jewelry taken by Glenn.

Mrs. Glenn has not returned to the home of her brother-in-law, W. S. Tucker, 1601 East Thirty-fifth street. "We don't know where Mrs. Glenn is and we don't know anything about her last husband," said Mrs. Tucker last night. "She always visited here when she came to Kansas City. She kept her affairs to herself."

NOBLEST CAREER FOR WOMAN IS WIFEHOOD, SAYS MRS. W. H. TAFT

Higher Education Does Unfit Them

WASHINGTON, May 12.—"All women, it is true, are not called upon to preside over a home or to rear children, but all broad-minded women admit that this is the loftiest type of usefulness."

This sentence from an interview with Mrs. William Howard Taft gives the keynote of the character and mission of the wife of the most noted of President Roosevelt's official family, the woman who in all probability will one day be mistress of the White House.

Mrs. Taft was discussing college education for women when she gave utterance to the sentence quoted in the foregoing. Herself a woman of high culture, she is a firm believer in education for women when she gives utterance to the sentence quoted in the foregoing. Herself a woman of high culture, she is a firm believer in education for women when she gives utterance to the sentence quoted in the foregoing.

that cult of the "new woman," who believes that marriage and motherhood do not answer the best ideals, and who find themselves "wedded to their art" or some other unappreciative and unresponsive thing.

"Higher education for women," Mrs. Taft laughed, "well, my daughter has elected to take a full college course at Bryn Mawr, and is now studying diligently in order to enter the college next autumn. I believe in the best and most thorough education possible for every one—men and women—and it is a source of deep gratification that all my children are studious."

"My idea about higher education for women is that it makes them great in soul as well as in intellect. It never occurred to me that it should make them poor imitations of men."

MEN EXCHANGED WIVES AND NOW THERE IS PLENTY OF TROUBLE

Insurance Money Takes Matter Into Court

PITTSBURG, May 12.—A page from the life of the late Alva P. Shoemaker, which reads more like a weird romance than an incident of real life, will form a part of the defense of the four insurance companies which have been sued by Mrs. Ella Hefflick Shoemaker for insurance aggregating $40,000, which Alva P. Shoemaker placed on his life before his death.

It was learned today that the case will come up in the United States court here on May 20, as there are a number of cases to be heard before the Shoemaker case is reached.

In attempting to prove that Mrs. Ella Hefflick Shoemaker was not the legal wife of Alva P. Shoemaker when he took out the insurance and when he was killed, the defendant companies will bring out the romance of his life, which they declare to be as follows:

Shoemaker went from his home in Harrisburg, Pa., about the year 1895, to St. Louis, where he secured a good position, and where he met and married a St. Louis girl. Later, he was sent to the City of Mexico by the firm by which he was employed.

There the Shoemakers met and became on good terms with a wealthy planter and his wife. The latter was a very beautiful woman, and Shoemaker fell in love with her, and the Mexican planter fell in love with Shoemaker's wife.

By mutual agreement of all four parties, they exchanged wives. Later, Shoemaker took the Mexican woman to New York, where she fell in love with a wealthy New York man and deserted him. Shoemaker then came to Pittsburgh and began his spectacular career.

The insurance companies will attempt to prove that Shoemaker was not divorced from his first wife, and that if he ever married the Mexican woman he committed bigamy. There is no record of his ever having been divorced from the Mexican. His first wife is still living in the City of Mexico, and it was only a short time ago that a representative of her husband was in this city to establish proof of the death of Shoemaker.

WHITE HOUSE MISTRESS AT TWENTY-ONE, SHE'S BLIND NOW

Pathetic Story of Daughter of a President

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A happy Virginia bride at 21, mistress of the White House at 19, and totally blind and an inmate of the Louise Home in this city at 37. Such is the life story of Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, daughter of former President Tyler, who was 37 years old today.

When it is remembered that Mrs. Semple was a little girl, when Lafayette made his last visit to America, it would seem that she almost belongs to another age.

When the death of William Henry Harrison made Tyler president, he brought an interesting family to the White House. Mrs. Tyler was an invalid, and could never discharge the duties of mistress of the mansion. During the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady shortly afterward. After the death of her mother Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, which she discharged with grace and tact until her father's second marriage only a few months before his term of office expired.

Her last visit to the White House was during the administration of President Pierce. Since that time, although invitations have come to her for every function given there, she has paid no attention to them. She leads a quiet life in the Louise Home, which is filled with southern ladies of gentle birth and culture. The home is not a charitable institution, for each woman must pay for her board and room.

MY SWEETHEART

The birds are hushed in the tree-tops,
The firelight falls to gray,
And the tents gleam white in the pale starlight
As I wait for thee and the day.

Thou wilt come with the flush of the morning,
The woods shall stir and wake,
And the daystar rise to greet thine eyes,
And the thrush her silence break.

O, dark are the hills, my sweetheart,
They are dreaming of dawn and thee;
And the tall pines sleep in the stillness deep,
None watch but the stars and me.

—Homer E. Woodbridge in McClure's.

THE MEDDLER

INTERFERING WITH SOCIAL EVENTS.

The strike across the bay has interfered considerably with social events. Not everyone has an automobile and carriages are exceedingly difficult to secure during a street car strike, so many of them being engaged by the day. Many women whose husbands own automobiles have full access to the machines in the evening but are unable to have them during the day, when they are used for business purposes. In consequence of the strike several luncheons which were to have taken place at the Fairmont were called off. One was the luncheon and bridge which Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld had intended to give at the beautiful new hotel.

At the last moment when it was found that the strike was likely to continue Mrs. Rosenfeld changed the place to the Claremont Country Club, most of her guests being from this side of the bay. The Claremont Club is particularly lovely at this time of the year, but it is not the novelty for Oaklanders that the Fairmont is.

A breakfast which was to have been given by the Cap and Bells Club in honor of its president, Mrs. Squire Varick Manner, was also postponed indefinitely until transportation facilities should be resumed. Indefinite postponements are always dangerous; the affair is so likely not to come off at all.

MRS. ALLEN'S ENGAGEMENT.

One of the Fairmont affairs which did come off was Mrs. Frederick Sharon's luncheon at which was announced the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. Florence Sharon Allen and Mr. Herbert Hamilton Brown. The announcement caused a flutter of interested surprise as no hint of the pleasant tidings had reached most of the guests, though all of them were the warm friends and intimates of Mrs. Allen when she was pretty Florence Sharon. Mrs. Allen is a charming young matron with two pretty little girls. Her first marriage was a romantic one and Mr. Allen's death was unusually sad. One of the little children was posthumous. Everyone is perfectly delighted that Mrs. Allen is to be again a happy bride, for she is a charming and lovable woman. Congratulations and good wishes are being showered thickly upon her. Recently Mrs. Allen has been cultivating her voice with great success.

At the luncheon the other day no guest looked more charming than Mrs. Eugene Hewlett, who is beautiful Miss Fore was so very popular over here before her marriage. Mrs. Hewlett has just returned from several weeks spent in Los Angeles, where she was the guest of her intimate friend, Mrs. Howard Huntington. The Huntingtons have quantities of money, a most beautiful home and a most enviable social position in the southern city. Consequently Mrs. Hewlett's time was filled with a round of pleasure, and she was royally entertained from one day's end to the next.

AUTOMOBILING TO BYRON SPRINGS.

Automobiling to Byron Springs is one of the most popular trips on Sunday for those who have cars. The run up is made on Saturday afternoon, the night is spent at the hotel, a bath is enjoyed and the run back made Sunday afternoon. The roads are in excellent condition and the run is just long enough to be enjoyable. Among those who made the trip last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Magee, who enjoy their new car. Mr. Magee is an enthusiast on automobiling, which Mrs. Magee likes more moderately and did not care for at all until a short while ago.

Speaking of Byron Springs reminds me that arrangements are complete for the marriage of Miss Mae Sadler and Lewis Risdon Mead, which is to take place very shortly. Mrs. Mead, wife of Dr. Mead, the daughter-in-law of the groom, is to be matron of honor and Miss Sadler, the bride's sister, maid of honor. One of the bridesmaids will be Miss Winifred Burdge, who is herself engaged.

MRS. F. M. SMITH ISSUES CARDS.

Before departing for Shelter Island, Mrs. F. M. Smith will hold several informal at homes to which her more intimate friends are being invited. Arbor Villa is as lovely as ever these days and the new mistress is charmingly hospitable and informal.

MRS. CARTER AS "DU BARRY."

The opening of Mrs. Leslie Carter as Madame Du Barry at the Novelty Theater in San Francisco was successful in spite of the street car strike. A throng of automobiles and carriages stood outside the doors and Monday night saw a crowded house. Mrs. Carter's performances are always interesting, and though some people think she has lost in finesse since her parting with David Belasco others think she has gained in heart and strength and that the pathetic part of her work has improved. Since Mrs. Carter's second marriage Mr. Belasco would have nothing to do with her. There has been a general impression that Mr. Belasco was the Svengali to Mrs. Carter's Trilby. Certain it is that he greatly improved her method and made a polished actress of one who, in her earlier seasons, was strong but crude.

That Mr. Belasco is not ungrateful to the stars who are piling up a huge fortune for him is proved by the fact that he lately presented Blanche Bates with a chest of large, massive and perfectly gorgeous pieces of silver on the occasion of her two hundred and fiftieth performance of "The Girl of the Golden West," which is, by the way, as great a success in New York as ever.

There is a perfect hailstorm of western plays on in New York. Besides the Blanche Bates play there is one of Richard Watson Tully's, which first appeared as "Juanita of San Juan," but now, entirely re-written, not by Mr. Tully, it appears as the "Rose of the Rancho," and Frances Starr, who is so well remembered as the charming ingenue of the Alcazar, is taking the part of the Rose. It is a very slight play, even now, but it has atmosphere and everything western is the vogue.

Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller are appearing in "The Great Divide," a Western melodrama, entirely out of key with real life, but nevertheless popular in New York.

VAN NESS THEATER CLOSED.

The Van Ness Theater is the only one across the bay which closed during the strike. This is the more remarkable as the Van Ness has the most fashionable clientele of all and more of its patrons own automobiles and carriages.

The "Midsummer Night's Dream," with Annie Russell, which was so perfectly charming, ran but one week instead of two, and Henrietta Crossman, who had not played in San Francisco since she was a star, was to have opened this week, but has gone elsewhere. California has its best theatrical attractions in the spring, and it seems a pity that anything should interfere with these performances.

SORROW AT ETNEMERE.

There is grief at Etanemere and much sympathy is being expressed for Miss Florence Hush and Mr. Valentine Hush over the death of the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson Wells in far-away Burlington, Vermont. The baby, who had been named William Wells, after General William Wells, Mr. Wells' father, lived but three days. The sorrow of Mr. and Mrs. Wells is most keen over the death of their first-born. The little chap seemed so well and strong at first and was born to such great love and such unusually fortunate circumstances that it is too sad. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells were married almost seven years ago, and the coming of this first grandchild of the Wells name was a great event in the prominent New York family.

FAILURE OF THE SEVERN.

The failure of the "Severn," that popular tavern in Geary street, where a good table, high prices and constant crowds seemed to insure success, has demonstrated once more that you can't run a hotel or any other sort of business unless you know how. The Severn was undertaken by a number of young business and club men, but it is said that the waiters stole everything in sight, hence the failure.

This reminds one of a small restaurant known as The Mint, where bon vivants were accustomed to lunch before the fire. The place was in Commercial street and it served most excellent food and was always crowded. A number of lawyers and other professional men bought stock in it, and from that moment it steadily declined in income. Doubtless money was made from the place, but it was not made by the owners. When the fire came, the place was wiped out. Those who had put in five hundred dollars apiece received ninety or a hundred in insurance money, having lost their interest for five years and four-fifths of their principal. The Mint will not be revived unless with a new set of suckers.

That also reminds me that the Palace Hotel never paid until Colonel Kirkpatrick took hold of it. That gentleman is a most able hotel man with a gift which amounts almost to genius. One of the minor leaks he discovered was that the breakage of dishes by waiters and cooks amounted to about three thousand dollars a month. One of Colonel Kirkpatrick's first rules was that when a dish was broken it must be brought at once to a certain official. If every piece were returned, the hotel would stand the loss, but if every piece were not returned, the waiter or cook must pay for the dish. The next month the breakage fell to less than two hundred dollars. The dishes were, of course, not being broken at all; they were being stolen and sold.

GOOD MANNERS.

One wonders that girls do not more often realize what a potent factor in social success good manners may be. Cordiality is an attractive attribute elaborate social function seen in Washington this year.

Secretary Metcalf will take a party of foreign visitors, including the Duke D'Abruzzi and General Kuraki, and as many of their suites as it is possible to accommodate, to Mount Vernon, on Saturday morning on the Mayflower. On the return trip an elaborate luncheon will be in older people, but it is especially charming in a young girl. And yet we have to admit to ourselves that it is sadly lacking in many of the girls we know. So much is done for the young girl of today to give her a good time that it is not to be wondered at that she is often very much spoiled, with a most absurd idea of her own importance. We all know the girls who give you simply "a bat of the eyelids" in passing, and for a moment you are perfectly furious. You make up your mind that you will not see the young lady the next time you meet her, but you are assured that "it is only her way."

Well, it is a mighty poor way—a way that ought to go down the line at the earliest opportunity.

The American young woman is really a splendid product of civilization, but there are some things we might wish to be different. The cold little words of greeting, as if it were rather a trouble to include one in the field of vision, are not characteristic of California only. An elderly lady just returned from abroad says:

"Those sheep nodes the girls vouchsafe seem to me absolutely disrespectful. Can't they come out of their self absorption and wild hurry long enough to greet properly an old friend who has known them ever since they were born, and their mothers before them? They make me too indignant for words. Our girls are certainly attractive, but they don't seem to have had any social training; it would do them good to go about a little in society in Germany, for instance, or in Austria. They ought to see Viennese ladies on the promenade, young and old alike. Even in passing an acquaintance they pause long enough for a full glance of recognition, and then do not just nod the head as if a hinge were at the back of the neck. They really bow, inclining the body from the hips in a beautiful sweep. There is no full stop as for a courtesy, but training has taught them an indescribable slowing up with a deliberate elaboration of movement that makes one think of movement and rhythm in music. It gives an impression of dignity and graciousness that would add great charm to the manner of our own splendid young women."

METCALFE ARE IN MANY AFFAIRS.

The social season is for the most part over in New York. In San Francisco also, but in Washington the festivities in diplomatic circles have attained the brilliancy of the mid-winter season.

Many of the festivities are in honor of the Duke D'Abruzzi, commander of the Italian fleet, now anchored in Hampton Roads, and of General Kuraki of Japan.

The Italian Embassy was the scene of one of the most elaborate social affairs seen in Washington this year, the guest of honor being Duke D'Abruzzi. There was a very formal tea in the afternoon, the decorations being hundreds of American Beauty roses.

After the tea there was a most elaborate dinner, the guests representing ambassadors in Washington from the leading countries abroad. A dinner followed the tea, among the guests being Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf. At 10 o'clock there was a reception with dancing, to which four hundred guests were asked. Altogether it was the most served on board.

Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson entertained at a most elaborate dinner in Washington this week, and a reception and dance followed the dinner. There were several hundred guests at the dance. Among the dinner guests were Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf and the Duke D'Abruzzi.

MOTHERS' MEETING.

Some of the most notable meetings in the state were held last week in Los Angeles, at the Mothers' Congress held there.

It was the tenth anniversary session of the Mothers' National Congress, and it became a national congress through the enthusiastic support of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst.

Mrs. Edwin C. Grice of Philadelphia is the corresponding secretary, and she was one of the most eloquent speakers at the congress. In one of her addresses she said: "Through the munificent generosity of Mrs. Hearst it was possible for us to carry out the great thought of a national congress of mothers and establish a continent-wide bond of motherhood for the betterment of our country."

Among the speakers was Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of General Logan, and one of the best known women in the country, a woman distinguished in the social world, as well as in the broader world of philanthropic effort. Mrs. Logan is a power in Washington, and her influence for good is far-reaching. In the Women's Congress in Southern California, speaking of Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. Logan said:

"The work which Mrs. Hearst has done for the mothers of this country through the National Congress can scarcely be appreciated. She is not only the possessor of wealth, but a woman of wonderful character and goodness. Her heart and means have been given unstinted to numerous great works of charity, reform and education, and her life has been devoted with a pure and high purpose to all that is noble and helpful."

"I consider myself exceedingly fortunate in being personally and closely acquainted with Mrs. Hearst. Senator George Hearst and my husband were members of the Senate at the same time and I then formed the friendship with Mrs. Hearst which has been so precious to me since and which has given me a knowledge of her rich and gentle character."

"The many good works she has done are known only in part, for her charities, her giving of herself, her time, thought, heart and means has been unostentatious, and it is only in that great book where the recording angel writes that a record of her munificence appears."

It was an eloquent tribute, given with much forcefulness and feeling, and it was of value, coming from so distinguished and honored a woman as Mrs. Logan.

It is, of course, what we all know ourselves, and knowing it so well we are rejoiced that Mrs. Hearst is coming back to take up the day's work again among the friends who know her, and have a deep and abiding affection for her.

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, who have been spending some May days at the hacienda, were recently in Los Angeles.

SUMMER PLANS.

In these late spring days one's friends are everywhere discussing summer plans, and it is surprising the number of people who are wandering very far afield this year. On the continent, too, our friends are traveling extensively—Americans have a way these days of flying from one place to another in the most unostentatious fashion. It is Wallace Irwin who writes of us these days: "For in Manhattan

New York social news becomes of ever-increasing interest to us."

Mrs. Henry A. Butters, with the Misses Marie and Marguerite Butters, have been spending some delightful weeks in Geneva at the Hotel National. Mrs. Butters has spent so many months in the past in Geneva that she has warm friends there who do much in a social way for her and for her daughters. Mrs. Butters and her daughters are going to London for the season, and will be at the Hotel Metropole. The London season bids fair to be very gay this year, and some very distinguished Americans are to entertain elaborately. A London season offers many interesting pictures, and among the popular Americans will be Mrs. Butters and her daughters.

From Paris and Berlin comes news of the extremely cold weather, the great cold driving visitors to Southern Europe.

Mrs. Cliff, Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham and Miss Jean Cliff, who have spent the winter in Dresden, are now in Paris. Mrs. Cliff is an experienced traveler and she knows how to thoroughly enjoy life on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fish, who have spent the entire winter and spring in Oakland, leave this week for New York and Europe. They will include Scotland in their itinerary abroad, and will visit Mrs. Fish's relatives there.

Miss Harriet Joffe left for the East and Europe last week. Miss Joffe will spend a few days with Mrs. George Doubleday in New York and will then go abroad for a long stay. She will go directly to Ireland to her cousin, Mrs. Robert Cryan, formerly Miss Minnie Matthews of this city.

Robert Cryan recently passed away in Rome, and Mrs. Cryan has gone back to the family estates in Ireland.

Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin and Miss Grace Baldwin are abroad, and have been traveling extensively in France and Europe.

Mrs. Baldwin's friend, Miss Keene, so well known in club circles here, prefers to make her home abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hogan and Miss Ella Hogan are having a most successful trip around the world. They greatly enjoyed their stay in Cairo and when last heard from they were journeying leisurely through the Holy Land.

Mrs. Orestes Pierce, who has been traveling with Mrs. William Dohmann, is now at the Hotel Dysart in London. They were spending some time in Berlin, but the extreme cold sent them to London. They will probably remain there for the London season.

Mrs. Charles O. Alexander is chaperoning Miss Marie Berger in a trip around the world. They are at present in Southern Europe and they expect to be gone some months longer.

Mrs. John Parrott will be among the travelers planning to spend some time in Europe this year. She will join Miss Abby Parrott, who has been abroad for some months.

Mrs. E. B. Clement, who is chaperoning Miss Mattie Livermore, will not return to California this summer. They have been spending the spring months in Dresden, but will go to Helsingfors, Finland, for the summer.

Many of us remember when pretty Weenah Williams went abroad. And she never came back, for abroad she met Mr. Martin Ekblom, a wealthy landowner of Finland, whom she married, and her home has since been in quaint, historic Helsingfors. Mrs. Clement and Miss Mattie Livermore will be Mrs. Ekblom's guests this summer.

Mrs. Gerberding, who is Mrs. Herbert Stone's sister, is now in New York City. She is planning to spend the summer in the East and to sail for Europe in September.

Victor Henderson is also among the travelers going abroad this year. He has obtained leave of absence from duty as secretary of the Board of Regents, and with Dr. Reinhardt will spend the summer in Europe.

Mrs. Charles Clark is also going abroad this year, so there will not be the usual house parties in her beautiful home in Burlingame this summer.

Mrs. Clark will go directly to London to be with her sister, Agnes Tobin, who has been some months there. Miss Agnes Tobin is most popular in the exclusive literary set of London, and indeed she deserves it, for she is a very talented girl. Her beautiful translations of Petrarch's poems have won for her universal praise, and given her claim to literary prestige.

She is a great friend of Alice Meynel, one of England's most distinguished writers. Mr. and Mrs. Meynel are also prominent socially, so Miss Agnes Tobin has had excellent opportunities of meeting many English people worth while.

PROF. AND MRS. CLAPP ABROAD.

Others who have gone abroad this summer are the Clapps of Berkeley. Professor Clapp is at the head of the Greek Department of the University, so he goes directly to Greece, and will make his headquarters in Athens. Mrs. Clapp and Miss Edith Clapp will go to Munich, where Miss Clapp is to study music, and Miss Miriam Clapp will remain with friends in Paris.

MRS. HEARST COMING HOME.

Mrs. Hearst has given up the apartments in Paris which she has had for three years, and is coming home, intending to make her permanent home now in California. Mrs. Hearst belongs to California, of course, but she belongs more especially to Alameda county. In this county is the country home of which she is so fond, the Hacienda del Pozo de Verona, and at Berkeley is shown much of the generous munificence which has made Mrs. Hearst so greatly beloved by our people.

COME HOME FROM EAST.

Mrs. Traylor Bell and Miss Helen Dornin arrived from the East last week, coming home by way of the Canadian Pacific. They greatly enjoyed their visit to New York and Washington and were especially enthusiastic over the charm of Atlantic City. The Dornins will go later to their pretty summer home at Inverness.

PRESIDENT WHEELER TO GO EAST.

President and Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Master Wheeler will leave this week for the East. President Wheeler has some addresses to make at leading educational institutions, and with Mrs. Wheeler he will spend some time at Providence, R. I., which was formerly Mrs. Wheeler's home.

LIEUT. KEMPF IS BACK.

Much to the joy of many friends, Lieut. Clarence Kempf, recently returned from the Philippines, has been assigned to duty at Mare Island. With Mrs. Kempf he will establish his home there in the near future.

The Kemps are well known at Mare Island, for Admiral Kempf was at one time commander on the Independence. No doubt Miss Corolla Kempf will spend a great deal of time at her brother's home on Mare Island.

INTERESTING CONCERT.

An interesting concert will be given on Tuesday evening, May 28th, at St. Anthony's Hall, East Oakland. The artists who are to appear on that occasion are Miss Violet Kennett Albright and Miss Marion Howard Fitton.

Miss Albright has a very exquisite soprano voice, beautifully trained. She returned recently from New York, where she spent some months in study. She has many friends who are greatly interested in her success in her chosen musical career. Miss Marion Fitton is an accomplished pianiste, whose fine and brilliant interpretation of music will add much to the program. A large and appreciative audience bids fair to be present at St. Anthony's Hall, for both these young artists are popular girls with many devoted friends.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. Delphine Delmas Barnes, a musician of note and well known society woman, who will spend the summer on this side of the bay, at 2518 Elina street, Berkeley. Mrs. Barnes is the attractive daughter of D. M. Delmas.

Miss Ruth Farley and Miss Dolores Kelley are two popular Oakland girls. Miss Selma Werner is known in musical circles and Miss Duhen will entertain informally.

TAYLORS GIVE A DINNER.

One of the jolliest dinners of the entire year is scheduled for next week, when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor will entertain at dinner the members of the Linda Vista Card Club, to which they belong.

Mr. Samuel Taylor is the most genial of hosts, always the same generous friend, with kindness in his heart for every one. He is an ideal host. Mrs. Taylor ably supplements his efforts, so the dinner at the Kew Route Inn will be one of the jolliest dates of the week. Thirty guests are bidden to the dinner, the largest affair given up to date at that bright and picturesque restaurant. One hears that it will compare favorably with the best days of the Palace or St. Francis.

After the dinner the guests will adjourn to the Taylor home on the hill, where the usual card games will be played.

MRS. KLUEGEL GOES ON TRIP.

Mrs. Edward A. Kluegel left this week for an indefinite visit with friends in Riverside, and she will spend some time traveling in Southern California before her return to her home in Berkeley.

SOCIAL NEWS of the WEEK

Mrs. Kluegel has been making her home with her sister in the latter's beautiful and picturesque residence, "Allendale," in North Berkeley.

GAVE A LUNCHEON.

Among the most interesting dates of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. E. A. Kluegel, in honor of the very pretty and popular bride-elect, Miss Lita Schlessinger.

Mrs. Kluegel has known Miss Schlessinger since her early school days, and the families have been great friends, so the complimentary luncheon was of more than the ordinary degree of interest. It was given at the Fairmont, in San Francisco, and the round table at which the guests were seated was a most effective study in decoration, carrying a wealth of American Beauty roses. The latter were distributed among the guests at the close of the luncheon.

Among Mrs. Kluegel's guests were: Miss Lita Schlessinger, Miss Lucia Rodgers, Miss Lydia Atterbury, Mrs. Charles Adolph Schlessinger, Mrs. Oliver Meade, Mrs. Edward S. Gray, Mrs. Arthur L. House, Mrs. Wallace White, Mrs. Harriet Brackenridge, Mrs. Oscar Maurer, Mrs. Alfred Bailey, Mrs. Almerie Coxhead, Mrs. Allen G. Freeman.

Many interesting complimentary affairs will be planned for Miss Schlessinger, who is one of the most beautiful girls of the younger set. She is an exceedingly sweet and dainty little maid as well and deserves all the honors her friends may offer her.

The Rev. John Howland Lathrop is exceedingly popular with a large circle of friends in Berkeley. He is a fine type of the high-bred college gentleman and one of the ablest preachers on the Coast. The wedding of Miss Schlessinger and Mr. Lathrop will take place in the early autumn and they will begin home-keeping in an artistic little bungalow in Berkeley.

AMERICANISM IS MADE OF THE HOMES.

The American smart set—that the women, unless there are callers, remain all day upstairs. And on Englishman of distinction, contrasting American and English life, writes:

"There is less stiffness in an English drawing-room, because it is lived in, and show it, with few exceptions, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Except on the reception day, the visitor is shown into a drawing-room which is empty. Possibly gorgeous, but stiff and formal, with no sign of life about it. A writing table laden with silver set, no ink in the pot, no nib in the pen, and a virgin blotter. No books or papers, nothing to while away the weary time until midnight appears after a lengthy toilet. She has probably been reading or sewing in a charming upstairs sitting-room—that sign of her life the visitor is never permitted to see. The fact that she goes out so enormously, and that the men of the family are never around in the day time, permits of the continental bedroom-wrapper life!

"All entertainments in America have much more attention to detail given, certainly more money is spent on flowers and accessories.

"The hours for luncheons, dinners and balls are the same, but English entertaining is less formal. On the whole, friends are much more free of the house, to become one of the family with no effort of set entertaining. Luncheon, for instance, in many houses is a standing invitation, the table being set for many guests who may or may not come.

"A custom which existed of closing shades and lighting candles to pretend it was dinner has happily passed away from America."

MR. AND MRS. BOWLES IN LONDON.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bowles are enjoying a very delightful trip abroad, and are now in London for the season. They are enthusiastic automobilists, and so they have been able to make delightful excursions far away from the beaten track of travel.

WILL NOT COME TO COAST.

Bishop and Mrs. Whitaker are not coming to the Coast this summer, much to the regret of many California and Nevada friends. They are going to England instead, and will spend part of the summer in London.

They usually come to Highlands, where they are Mrs. Riqua's guests, and though the bishop is most popular in exclusive Philadelphia, his heart is always true to old California friends and some of his cherished memories cluster around the old days in Gold Hill, Nevada.

DID NOT SAIL FOR EUROPE.

Mrs. Havens, Miss Avis Sterling and Mrs. Oscar Long did not sail for Europe, as they had planned to do early this week. They were to have crossed on the Kaiser Wilhelm, but at the last moment their plans were changed and the steamer sailed without them.

Their friends have not yet heard the reason for the change, but no doubt some one of the little party was ill. And one needs to be in the very best of health to enjoy a trip abroad, with its many discomforts.

Mrs. Long will probably join her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Shaw, who spends the summer always at attractive resorts on the Atlantic seaboard, at Newport and Atlantic City. The Havens, of course, spend many weeks each summer at Sag Harbor, where they have a most picturesque home. It is not far from Shelter Island, and as Mr. Havens has a yacht, many yachting trips add to the pleasure of happy Sag Harbor summer days.

MR. AND MRS. REQUA IN NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Requa and their children took possession this week of their delightful home in Berkeley. It is a large and picturesque home, near the Head School, and is one of the most attractive residences in that part of Berkeley.

The attractive home bids fair to be the scene of much hospitable entertainment in the future.

MRS. BAKER IS GOING TO ISLANDS.

Mrs. Edmund Baker, formerly Ethel Kittredge, is going to the islands for the summer, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Baldwin.

Oakland has seen very little of Mrs. Baldwin in the past few seasons, and her interests all seem to be centered in her island home. Mrs. Baldwin was formerly Harriet Kittredge, one of the most beautiful girls who made up the old Fortnightly set.

The Baldwins do not live on the main island of Hawaii, but on one of the small islands near by, where they have an extensive plantation. It is quite like being entirely out of the world, but one hears that they have built a beautiful home and are happy and content in their island life.

KINDERGARTEN FETE.

The last large social event of the season is, of course, the Kindergarten Fete scheduled for next Saturday afternoon and evening. Every one is hoping for a fair day, for it means so much to have an outdoor fete for the sun to shine.

Idora Park is simply charming at any season of the year, and the many pretty girls in their light gowns add an attractive phase to the many pictures of the afternoon. One hears that most artistic booths are being planned, and Idora differs from the ordinary garden in which fetes are held in that there is so much to do there—the theater, skating, the roller coaster—all sorts of diversions, not only for the children, but for their elders as well.

There is to be a quaint tea house, a restful lemonade booth, cornucopious of ice cream, balloons, flowers, whips, a fish pond, an ice cream booth—but the list of attractions is really too long to write.

Among those who have been taking a great interest in the fete, and who will be present on Saturday to help make it a success, are Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. George H. Wheaton, Mrs. M. C. Chapman, Mrs. E. J. Cotto, Mrs. William Letts Oliver, Miss Carolyn Oliver, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. A. M. Simpson, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. J. R. Burnham, Mrs. Edwin F. Taylor, Mrs. B. B. Stone, Mrs. E. C. Farham, Mrs. William G. Palminter, Miss Carolyn Palminter, Miss Houghton, Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Irving Burrell, Mrs. D. H. Mathes, Miss Mollie Mathes, Miss Edith Beck, Miss Beatrice Phillips, Miss Marion Walsh, Mrs. Arthur Crellin, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. Whipple Hall, Miss May Coogan, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Clinton Walker, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. William Knowles, Mrs. Frederick Sherman, Miss Ada Bates, Mrs. Chas. Bates, Mrs. John Brittain, Miss Brown, Mrs. D. R. Rae, Mrs. Edison Adams.

MISS HERRICK SAIL FOR EUROPE.

The Misses Herrick, who were recently in New York, have sailed for Europe, and they expect to be abroad several months, devoting themselves to the study of art.

The Carl Schillings have taken the Herrick home, on Mariposa avenue, and Mrs. Schilling has sent out cards for a tea to be given at her home next Wednesday, the complimented guest being Miss Mae Sadler, the much-feted bride-elect.

Mrs. Schilling, who is a very young and attractive bride, was formerly Miss Genevieve Isaacs of San Francisco, and her wedding took place shortly after her graduation from Miss Hamilton's school last year. Mrs. Schilling will have rooming with her Mr. Schilling's cousins, the Misses Ehrenberg, Miss Helen Gray, Miss Ruth Sadler, Miss Ruth and Miss Rose Keles.

Many of the guests are from San Francisco, and in the invited list are the Matland Clines, Johanna Volkman, Marion Lally, Anita Berteau, Gertrude and Marion Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bates, Mrs. Lillian Everett, Miss Florence Brown, Dr. Gas-kill, Dan and Will Volkmann, Rudolph Schilling, Ed. Atkins and Lieut. Everson.

MISS PRATHER AS HOSTESS.

Miss Edna Prather made a charming hostess this week, entertaining at a luncheon at the Claremont Country Club in honor of pretty Miss Bessie Coghill, whose wedding to Mr. John Trainor is to be an event of the late autumn.

The luncheon was a delightful affair, as the guest list was made up of young people who know each other very well.

The luncheon was chaperoned by Mrs. Prather, and among the guests were the Misses Edna Orr, Seville Eayden, Katherine Kutz, Christine Taft, Marion Walsh, Alice Hoyt, Virginia von Leben Sels, Pansy Perkins, Gertrude Russell and Eleanor Phelps.

The E. C. Prathers are planning to build a charming bungalow at Piedmont, and their future home will be one of the artistic residences for which Piedmont is now becoming famous.

ENTHUSIAST ON AUTOMOBILING.

Mr. Thomas Magee is still one of June, and it is arranged to take place quietly at the home of the bride, Miss Bruning is a most attractive girl, who will make a very beautiful bride.

The Corders represent one of the prominent families of the city and their home has always expressed much true-hearted hospitality. Only relatives are to be present at the wedding of Miss Bruning and Walter Corder, and the young people are to go north on an extended wedding trip. On their return they will establish mother, Mrs. Hoadley, and of her uncles, the Messrs. Hoadley.

Mrs. Hoadley has many friends here who are devoted to her. She is a bright, charming woman, and a splendid conversationalist. She spends her winters at Providence, R. I., and her summers are spent with her sons at Narragansett Pier.

They have a large steam yacht in which runs are made across to Newport, and delightful trips to other points of interest, so Miss Kales bids ish to have a most interesting summer with her relatives.

MRS. MATHES TO GO EAST.

Mrs. D. H. Mathes and Miss Mollie Mathes leave early in June, and they are planning to spend the entire summer in the East. Mr. Mathes' mother has a charming home in Vermont, where Mrs. Mathes and her daughter are guests each year. They also spend delightful weeks of the summer in the White Mountains.

SENSE OF PATRONAGE.

There is one thing that is most exasperating to the Californian who wanders far afield in our own land or in foreign countries, and that is the sense of patronage which makes itself felt everywhere. People grant us money if we come from the far west, but they grant us little else. They cannot realize that we have lived past the old mining days of the Bret Harte books, and that we stand for culture and intellectual advancement just as much as the older parts of our country. Perhaps we have wider horizons and more enthusiasms, but surely that is to our credit.

So we hail with joy a book that is creating a great stir in the East—which everyone is reading and which is called "The Greater America." For you see, the author has discovered America, and he is full of enthusiasm over it. One sees a great sea of wheat racing eastward, dizzying railroads racing across the northwest, cattle ranges, timber country and the great commerce of the Pacific Coast.

And his book will be very wholesome reading for all those people to whom whatever is west of the Alleghenies is an undiscovered country. These thousands of travelers on outgoing steamships who are wont to consider that everything in the world worth looking at is contained between the Palisades of the Hudson and the Swiss Alps would do well to carry the book with them to read on their homeward journey. They may be inspired by it to make a westward trip themselves, and also, moved by his example, to learn something about the regions they pass through. For Americans, who are the greatest globe trotters in the world, usually contrive to remain phenomenally ignorant about the countries they visit.

Mr. Payne has felt and has put into his book the very spirit of energy and enthusiasm and confidence and ambition and kindness which fills the vast miles to the west of New York. He has tried to understand what the West is about, and, as the cowboy puts it, he has "struck its gait." The result is a book which is full to the brim of the things the West is doing, and the spirit in which it is doing them—that combination which, the world over—except in New York City—spells America. The people who know the West, who are, ever have been, a part of it, can read the volume for very delight in its breezy, full-lunged truth to the Western spirit, while those who do not know the West can read it with a contrite heart that they have missed so much, and a determination to make amends to themselves at the first opportunity.

And what has all this to do with social life? Just this: that we will not allow ourselves to be patronized.

DR. JAMES DUNN RETURNS.

the most enthusiastic of all our automobilists, and he has a new French machine, recently purchased at the automobile show in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Magee entertained a party of friends in an automobile trip to Byron Springs last week.

Miss Sara Drum is also the happy owner of a new French machine, which she drives with much skill and in which she entertains her friends.

ALAMEDA SOCIAL EVENT.

Mrs. George Taylor Crandall is to be the hostess at one of the most interesting of the Alameda social dates next week. She has sent out cards for a "five hundred" party, the guest of honor being Mrs. Peter Allen, whose engagement to Mrs. Crandall's brother, Herbert Brown, was announced last week.

The card party will be given next Tuesday afternoon at the Brown residence on Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, and a large number of invitations have been sent out. Her many friends are very devoted to Mrs. Peter Allen, who is very sweet and charming, and very true and sincere.

She is just as pretty now as she was when a leading belle of the Fortnightly dances. Her engagement was a great surprise to her friends, but they are sending her all sorts of good wishes for her future happiness.

MR. AND MRS. CORDER GO SOUTH.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corder have gone South, and will visit the many interesting places which make the sunny southland so attractive. They will visit relatives in San Diego before returning to Oakland.

That we know our own worth in the development of a great nation. They, when we go East or abroad, when we gaze upon the "Seats of the Mighty," we need not be unduly impressed—it is for us to remember with pride and joy that "The West is America!"

THE MEDDLER.

AT DEL MONTE. Evidently automobilists find the road to Del Monte very agreeable just now, as a large number of machines came down last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lolley, Miss Marian Lolley, of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirby, of Oakland, arrived in an automobile a few days ago.

Dr. and Mrs. John Snook automobilized from Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. John Brockway Metcalf and George D. Metcalf also enjoyed a spin down from the University town.

Mrs. H. W. Hawley, of Berkeley, and her son, Harry M. Hawley, with William S. E. Mahon, were at Del Monte over Sunday.

Another Berkeley party included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richards, Miss Ruby Richards, Miss Ruth Richards, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huddart, Miss Clara Huddart and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. Garlick, of Chesham.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Prather, Miss Prather and Miss Shatter are driving and riding horseback at Del Monte a great deal these beautiful spring days.

W. H. Welsh, of Alameda, who is the associate editor of Western Field, is here with Mrs. Welsh.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meinecke, of Alameda, were at Del Monte last week. Cecil Robertson and Miss Robertson are guests from Australia. Miss Robertson is most attractive and popular, and one of the prettiest luncheons given in the new Ebell clubhouse in Oakland was tendered her last week.

Mrs. Herbert E. Law automobilized down to visit her parents, who have a cottage in Pacific Grove for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sanborn, of Oakland, have recently established themselves in the Grove for some months.

Mrs. Foster Hawley is another Oaklander who has just taken a house for the season.

Mrs. J. M. Kirkland, of San Jose, is in the Grove, accompanied by her daughter, Miss M. B. Henderson, who is a student at Mills College, Oakland.

Mrs. E. Hastings was a recent guest at the Pacific Grove hotel.

KIDNAPING STORY TOLD

Harris Shockley Declares That Carmody Was the Prime Mover.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Police Judge Weller yesterday began the preliminary examination of Martin H. Carmody, Harry Sullivan and George Russell, the three electricians charged with conspiracy to kidnap P. H. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council.

The only witness examined was Harris Shockley, the electrician who informed the police of the plot against McCarthy, and whose story caused the arrest of the accused men.

Shockley testified that the conspirators twice visited the home of McCarthy at night time in an automobile and attempted, by knocking and hammering, to induce McCarthy to open the door.

Shockley said that Carmody paid him and the other men for the work they did in the matter. And he said that Carmody received the money from George Russell, who was secretary of Union No. 5.

Shockley stated that at one time, Carmody threatened to kill him for attempting to betray his fellow conspirators. Sullivan intervened and said that they would not kill him, but would shoot off his arms and legs. After that, according to Shockley's testimony, he was given $10 and told to get out of town.

Shockley testified that Gus Burt, who was substituted in the conspiracy for Charles Russell, informed the other men that he had been a sailor, and that he knew how to blind McCarthy with ropes.

"The coil of rope that the police found in the cottage on Forty-eighth avenue was offered in evidence by the prosecution, and Judge Weller admitted it over the objection of the defense.

Other witnesses for the State will be examined next Wednesday afternoon.

RACE SUICIDE RUBBED IN.
If his family keeps on increasing at the present rate, Prof. Edward A. Ross, sociologist of the University of Wisconsin, will find it impossible to keep on preaching his pet theory of restricting the size of families. The professor has had trouble keeping servants, owing to the great amount of work the size of his family entails, and he finds it distressing to be called the "father of the family."

Restricting the Size of the Family to help wash dishes.

WOMAN DID THE COURTING

HYANNIS, Neb., May 8.—Mrs. Jeanette Hellman, who has made her home on the Hyannis ranch for a number of years, and who at one time ran a ranch and owned a large herd of cattle, has just been married for the fifth time, she having done the courting.

Mrs. Hellman lost her fourth husband about a year ago. He died of consumption in New Mexico, where his wife had sent him for his health.

Soon after Mrs. Hellman avowed her purpose to get married again, and set to work to find a husband. She proposed to several men, but all refused her.

Nothing daunted, Mrs. Hellman kept on and finally met Willis McAllister, a widower, with neither children nor property, proposed and was accepted. They were married, a few days ago.

Mrs. Hellman, now Mrs. McAllister, is a woman somewhere in the early fifties, and is well preserved, not at all bad looking, intelligent and generally quite attractive.

She was at first married in the Black Hills, when she was a slip of a girl. Her husband was killed in an accident, a thing less than two months after the marriage. Within six months she was married again. Her husband deserted her, and she obtained a divorce. A year afterward she was married for the third time, and lived happily for a number of years, when her husband died.

A little more than a year after his death she was married to Hellman, who, it is said, was a man of some means, and whom she was compelled to support.

"A woman has no business trying to live alone out in the Western cattle country," said Mrs. McAllister. "She needs a man to take care of her, and she has to stay out of doors and do the hard work."

COMMON INTEREST.
It is better, Chicago and the Illinois legislature to go hand in hand. After all, they have a common interest in the grand old commonwealth.

What Was Said

by the respective governors of North and South Carolina at the opening exercises of the Jamestown Exposition to the effect that each was a teetotaler, the subject of much merriment in the public press. The incident, however, will have practically no detrimental influence upon that army of people who believe firmly that, on some morning, some governor of North Carolina will do some certain governor of South Carolina "it is a long time between drinks." It is of no more, either, the kind of drinks they had in mind. I feel bitulous whenever I think of Lehnhardt's. He does not have any South Carolina stuff on his sideboard. Am going around there now for a cup of Sam bouillon. That's the stuff to knock the tired feeling out of one.

TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Steps Out of Citizens' Committee and Declares Reasons to Mayor.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—In resigning from the citizens' committee Andrew Furuseth, secretary of the Sailors' Union, gives the following reasons in a letter directed to Mayor Schmitz.

"SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Hon. E. E. Schmitz, Mayor City of San Francisco, and Chairman Citizens' Committee of Fifty, City. Dear Sir:—When you did me the honor to appoint me one of a committee of fifty citizens, I presumed that it was the industrial situation in this city that you had in mind, and that you hoped such committee might influence for good."

"Already in the first meeting of the committee there were jarring and a disposition to make the representatives of labor responsible for such disorder as had already taken place, and for the restoration of law and order. As one of the labor representatives I advised the people (in my opinion the unions did not need such advice) to scrupulously preserve order, so that no excuse might be given for doing the injustice to this city of bringing troops here. In the meantime we visited organizations of labor and urged as strongly as we knew how, moderation to those already in industrial difficulties—delay, or abandonment, of any propositions which might be in contemplation."

TO ACT OUTSIDE THE LAW.
"Inasmuch as the feeling of the executive committee seems to be, and in my judgment is, that nothing can be done to settle the present strikes, and inasmuch as you further say that the committee is appointed 'not particularly to settle any of the present strikes etc. but to make such recommendations as in the judgment of the majority of the committee, may be for the best interests of the present and future welfare of the city, it seems to me that this committee is either a vigilance committee, a committee of safety or some other kind of a committee that is acting, or expected to act, outside of the law."
"In such a committee, it seems to me that I have no place. Any opinion that I might have as to what is to the best interest now and in the future could hardly be of any value, having so far dealt exclusively with those who labor and more especially who labor at sea, and I believe that the best endeavor I can at present render is to endeavor to keep the peace and present good will between the shipowners and the seamen permanent, regardless of what disagreements strikes and developments may take place uptown.

"For this reason I respectfully tender my resignation from the Citizens' Committee of Fifty to take place at once. Very respectfully yours,
"A. FURUSETH."

JAPANESE RULES FOR HAPPINESS.
Upon the wedding morning the Japanese bride is given twelve commandments by her mother. These twelve rules have been handed down from mother to daughter in Japan for centuries, and no well-bred girl disregards them. Here they are:
The moment you are married you are no longer my daughter. Therefore, you must obey your parents-at-law as you once obeyed your father and mother.
When you are married your husband will be your sole master. Be humble and polite. Strict obedience to her husband is the noblest virtue a wife can possess. Always be amiable toward your mother-in-law.

Do not be jealous. Jealousy kills your husband's affections for you.
Even though your husband be wrong, do not get angry. Be patient and when he has calmed down speak to him gently. Do not talk too much. Speak no evil of your neighbors. Never tell lies.

Be a good manageress, and especially be economical in your household.
Do not pride yourself on your father's rank or fortune. If he is a rich man never allude to his riches before your husband's relatives.
Consult no fortune-teller.
Rise early, retire early and do not sleep in the afternoon. Drink little wine, and until you are 60 take no part in public assemblies nor mingle in crowds.—Kansas City Post.

Fruitvale Heights

Why should I buy a lot in Fruitvale Heights?
When you can buy it on easy terms.
By paying a little down and so much per month for 3 years.
The seller pays the taxes until all payments are completed.
And, grades the streets and lays water pipes to every lot.
The lots are 40x120 feet.
Big enough for outdoor comfort.
Little enough to be cared for by the family.
You should not only buy a lot at Fruitvale Heights now—at the opening prices, but you should build a cozy cottage here and plant your trees and flowers and shrubs and surround yourself with the comforts of home and enjoy the morning sunshine on this beautiful slope—high above the fog belt, though but a short walk to the street car.
Why shouldn't you buy at Fruitvale Heights before the extension of the Thirteenth avenue (Tramway Company) line is completed?
Before the Key Route foot-hill line is completed—(It is now surveyed directly through Fruitvale Heights).
Why shouldn't you buy and get the benefit of the advance in prices, which is sure to follow the completion of these railways and the completion of the Company's improvements and the building of homes all about?
Fruitvale Heights will be more valuable next year than this because:
The growth of Oakland's population will push the residence section farther out.

Extension of 13th Ave. line past Fruitvale Heights

Electric lines will carry home-lovers farther into the suburbs every year.
That makes close-in lots like those at Fruitvale Heights more in demand and therefore higher in price.
These are some of the things that will make Fruitvale Heights lots more valuable next year than this.
You get to Fruitvale Heights by our conveyance from the Broad-gauge station, or at the Fruitvale office, 1240 Fruitvale avenue, and our agents there will show you over the property and will help you pick out what in your judgment will be the most suitable location for your home, or the best location for your investment.
When you build at Fruitvale Heights you will go home by the 13th avenue line—the closest point now being four blocks from Fruitvale Heights. Very likely by the time your home is completed the Thirteenth avenue line, now proposed, will be built immediately past Fruitvale Heights, and the Key Route now surveyed, will pass directly through Fruitvale Heights. Or, if you ride a wheel go up Redwood avenue from the foot-hill boulevard directly past Fruitvale Heights.

COMMENCEMENT DAY FOR MILLS COLLEGE GIRLS

MAIN BUILDING MILLS COLLEGE

Mrs. Philip Carpenter, Noted Alumna, Is to Make Address

MILLS COLLEGE May 18.—The three days of ceremony which yearly attend the commencement exercises at Mills College will begin this afternoon in the college chapel with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Charles L. Brown of Oakland.

The Commemorative exercises proper will be held on Tuesday afternoon at half past two o'clock. The prominent features of the program will include exercises remarkable for originality and originality in which every branch of study will participate and the address by Mrs. Philip Carpenter L. L. B. of New York who as Strabande (Carl Bohm) Miss Ora Woodbury.

Two Polish Dances op. 49 (Cesar Schumann) Miss Jessie McVay.

Mrs. Fannie H. Rouse was graduated here with the class of '03. Mrs. Carpenter will be the first woman who has ever spoken at a commencement exercise in Mills College.

Mrs. Mills is proud of the achievements of this distinguished scholar. After finishing her course at Mills she studied at New York Law School and then carried off her bachelor's degree with honors. Besides sharing the responsibilities of a large legal practice with her husband in New York she finds time now to devote to work for women and is an acknowledged leader in the women's clubs being president of the Sorosis in the District, city and also president of the National Club of the entire State.

Going back to her school days here Mrs. Carpenter can recall the bleak winters which the late Dr. Mills struggled so hard to conquer in his life.

Then the main building school came with an uninterrupted view of San Francisco Bay and the snow-capped peaks on either shore. Today the great building with its hundreds of rooms is hidden from the outer world by thirty years growth of pine and alders which now afford shelter to its pretty and fragrant garden.

The distinguished visitor says she can hardly realize the wonderful

WILL INDORSE SENATOR KNOX

Pennsylvania Republicans Stand for Roosevelt's Former Attorney-General.

CHICAGO May 18.—A telegram to the Tribune from Washington D. C. says United States Senator Philander C. Knox is to be endorsed by the Republican State convention of Pennsylvania which meets on June 6 as the choice of the Keystone State for President in succession to Theodore Roosevelt.

The news reached Washington yesterday and is known to the President. The resolution naming Mr. Knox will present him to the country as the man who most completely meets the demands for a successor to Mr. Roosevelt who will take no backward step in the enforcement of the policy for which the present administration stands.

It can be said authoritatively that President Roosevelt will express gratification over the action by the convention because he will regard it as an endorsement of his policies. Senator Knox was attorney-general in President Roosevelt's cabinet and initiated the prosecution of the Northern Securities and other cases which have reflected credit upon the administration and moreover he has aided in the passage of legislation which the President desired.

COURT CURBS ANGRY FATHER

Orders Him Into Custody on Failure Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO May 18.—"That is all I will pay," declared Charles L. Pryal as he angrily threw a $20 gold piece on a table in Judge Morgan's court. "I would go to jail before I would pay more," he added.

Then you may have your offer taken up, said the court. Mr. Bailiff take this man into custody.

Pryal's divorced wife had complained that he had kept their little boy away from her longer than the court had decreed that he should and that he was $50 in arrears with the alimony money. The court had warned him to comply with orders and pay up. He was afterward given until Monday to prove his statement that $20 is all he is able to pay.

OHIO SENATOR DECLARES HIMSELF WITHOUT EVASION

RESENTS CURB OR DICTATUM

Contest Waxing Warm as Various Factions Come Out Into the Open.

WASHINGTON May 18.—Senator Foraker today issued a spirited rejoinder to the statement made public at Columbus Ohio yesterday by Chairman Brown of the Republican State Central Committee embodying his views and those of Governor Harris and other state officials respecting Ohio's choice of a candidate for president. The senator says it is difficult to make a polite answer to a part of Chairman Brown's statement declaring that "for rank dictatorial and offensive bossism it far exceeds anything I can recall."

He gives definite notice that he not only resents Chairman Brown's dictation but that his choice for the presidency will be named by the next convention of Ohio Republicans and that he will abide by that choice.

FORAKER'S STATEMENT.
Following is the text of Senator Foraker's statement:

The state officers have a right to their preferences and to declare it when they like but such declarations do not dispose of the necessity for a convention nor a change in my opinion that the voters should be given a chance to be heard before final action has been taken.

"If the Republicans of Ohio are all overwhelmingly, or even by a bare majority in favor of Secretary Taft, his friends need not either fear the primaries or be in a hurry about holding them."

NO ONE NEED SUFFER.
"No one need suffer certainly not wrongfully, if we proceed in order instead of trying to rush conclusions by unofficial announcements and declarations.

SENATOR FORAKER.

"So far as the control of the state organization is concerned I have never made any claim to that. I have always supposed that organizations were mere party machines and not the personal property of any one not even the chairman of the state central committee."

OFFENSIVE BOSSISM.
"As to the rest of Mr. Brown's statement it is difficult to make polite manner. For rank dictatorial and offensive bossism it far exceeds anything I can recall. It amounts to a threat that unless I declare for Mr. Taft I shall lose the senatorship. That may be but if so the fact has no terrors for me."

I said at Canton that I would not be dictated to by any kind of a boss big or little, inside or outside the state. I meant that announcement for just such bosses as Mr. Brown, and for just such performances as he is now giving us.

"To be specific, I emphatically resent his dictation and give him notice that any choice for the presidency will be named by the next Ohio Republican convention that is lawfully held to nominate state officers, and that so far as I am personally concerned, I shall abide by the action of that convention as to whether I shall be a candidate again for any office, and if so, what that office shall be."

CLAREMONT LINE PROGRESSING

Thirty-Five Minutes Down Town

Ashland-Orchard to business in thirty-five minutes There is a fact that the strongest kind of argument cannot pull down. You can live in beautiful Ashland-Orchard and have every joy that life offers to home-loving people, and you can reach your business in thirty five of the pleasantest minutes you ever passed in travel. Ashland-Orchard is directly on the car line between Oakland and Hayward on the car line that leaves Broadway, Oakland, every little while, and travels through the fairest section of Alameda county for ten miles, then you are in Ashland Orchard. At the end of that thirty-five minute ride from the metropolis, you arrive at your own home, a place that offers the balmy climate in the State of California.

Ashland-Orchard Tract

Here you can have your garden and your flowers that bloom all the year round. Here you can surround yourself with every attraction that suburban life has to offer—AND YOU ARE ONLY THIRTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM TOWN. This is a proposition of today, not for you to read today and look for the place a year hence. It is a proposition that is a reality. The car lines, the two greatest western railroads, the most splendid boulevard in the State, the fertile soil which has made Alameda county renowned the world over—these things are waiting for you at Ashland-Orchard. If you would but seize this opportunity if you would but purchase acres and half acres for but one-quarter down, if you would act now—then in the years of contentment that will follow such a buy, you would say "I have done well."

LEE IS RULED OFF THE TURF BY STEWARDS

ockey's Confession, Under Affidavit, Responsible for the Downfall of the Double-Dealer.

By LEE DEMIER.

T. E. Lee, owner of Longworth and Grace Marie, was ruled off the turf by the powers that be of the New California Jockey Club yesterday.

Lee is a negro. His downfall comes as a result of his tampering with jockeys and was made possible through the confession of one of the riders with whom he entered into shameful and notorious agreements.

The confession was made in the form of an affidavit and contains such convincing details that the ruling powers of the Jockey Club wasted little time on Lee's plea in his own behalf.

The stewards are quite clued over the confession they got from the jockey, and in order to encourage other boys to do likewise they refused to divulge the name of the boy. The boy was swayed by the officials about a week ago, just after he had put up a weird ride, and he confessed everything.

Lee has been on the gridiron before, as it was expected that he knew quite a good deal about the rides that L. Williams put up just before leaving for the East.

Lee's horses were ruled off with him. The ruling off of Lee is taken by the stewards as a victory for sportsmanship and they believe that it will have a restraining influence on those who would refuse to play lightly with the honor of the game.

A regular holiday card was down for delivery at Williams Park yesterday and a regular holiday crowd was on hand to witness the sport. The star event of the interesting program was the race for the $10,000 purse, in which a half dozen sprinters strove for supremacy. Owing to the unruly actions of some of the contestants, the getaway was a poor one.

Gossiper, the second choice, with the advantage of a better start, assumed the commanding lead and tipped her field from barrier to wire. "Gossiper" beat the field by a wide margin. The race was a close one, and the crowd was in close attendance all the way and had not been allowed to move. The result would have been different. Royal Roubie came last when he got going and grabbed the small end of the purse from the fast time track. The ride on Roubie's track was a joke.

A dozen old-timers paraded to the post in the opening ceremony. The Captain was last rider and even Williams let him go, he was going away. But of Passage easily disposed of St. Deeds for the honor of the race. The first choice, started to make a runaway race of it, but backed up badly when the

ANNAPOLIS AND COLUMBIA CREWS WILL ROW TODAY

Sailorsmen Are In Hopes of Beating the Famous Record Winners of the Poughkeepsie Regatta.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 18.—Today promises to be the gala rowing day of the season at the naval academy. The Columbia varsity eight, with whom the "midshipmen" will contest, are the only opponents of the season here that they will meet in the big American Henley at Poughkeepsie in June. They will also furnish the last race of the season for the navy crew which has been unfortunate this season in having several of its races cancelled. The day dawned with every promise of ideal conditions for the rowing event which is scheduled to go two miles and which will be started at 2 o'clock if the weather does not change and compel a postponement. The indications are that the rowing will be a record-breaker. The navy baseball record-breaker.

KNITTERS ARE FRESNO WILL PLAY FINE HAVE AUTO RACES

The Gantner & Matern "Knitters" jockey to take tomorrow's cross-bait with the crack team from Solville. A big crowd of "rooters" will take the trip and help the "Knitters" to come home with the long end of the purse.

"Lefty" O'Bannon, the boy wonder from Oakland, is throwing the sphere in his best form. Last Sunday at Vallejo he allowed a hit and sent ten back to the bench. With any kind of deal from the umpire, who was worse than Black Bart, the train robber, he would have won his game by the whitewash route.

In the "Knitters" line-up can be seen some of the strongest semi-professional ball players on the coast. In the infield can be seen such familiar faces as Mace, first base; "Ginger" Hanrahan, second; Boynton, shortstop; "Champ" Graham, third; "Pee Wee" Sullivan, catcher, and "Lefty" O'Bannon, pitcher. In the outer garden the old reliable, Jimmy Sullivan, left; Solari, center, and Bishop, right.

Sullivan's catching is of first-class order; his pegging to bags is accurate.

"Champ" Graham, a brother of "Charley," is playing the three-quarter bag for the "Knitters" as it should be played.

"Ginger" Hanrahan, who eats umpires alive, will again lasso the fast ones around the middle station.

Manager Solari has a big, scrappy bunch, who know the game from A to Z and will be hard to beat from now on.

Jimmy Sullivan and "Coon" Boynton, who lead off in the batting order, are sluggers of the "Truck" Egan type and will lead many a pitcher to a merry chase.

The "Knitters" have a few open dates in June. All first-class country teams please answer. Address J. Solari, 444 Fell street, San Francisco.

The "Zip and Bang" troupe had an inning yesterday which will linger regrettably in the minds of Oakland ball players, and more particularly on the intellectual zone of Willie Wright, from Toledo, O. Their little one-act specialty combination was mostly responsible for Van Halgren's young and well-meaning boy's defeat yesterday. Wright's team wanted last night Los Angeles had the game 7 to 5.

Reverting to history, we might say that the Zip and Bang had some things to do with this sorrowful happening.

Where the third inning. Not a leaf stirred, and even the hand-painted trees on Mr. Gleason's tapestries were still. One of the Angels' last hits was a single to right field. Wright was lingering on first thinking of wedding bells. The stillness was harshly "broken" when young Carlisle took "Big Red" to the plate with him and rapped off Mr. Wright's six-foot St. Louis right field garden wall. The ball is still resting among the rose-marys. But the worst was yet to come. Following this little merited aberration on the part of Mr. Carlisle, Babe Ellis, who had been in the same spot, and put the ball directly among the same rose-marys. Sad, but true. These home runs of Carlisle and Ellis made the double play which was a success.

Oakland was away well in the second inning when Bignie scored Bliss on a single. Then the Zip Bang specialty for the Angels. Following this start, Van Halgren brought on the Yankee Doodle boys and made three runs through the infield. Van Halgren, not being a seah, walked. Heilmüller was an easy out, but Truck Egan slammed one among the hand-painted trees in right field, and directly began the inning. Bliss followed with a double, scoring Bignie. Then Halley scored Bliss. The inning flickered when Bignie died, Bernard to Dillon.

Some weird baseball on the part of

Los Angeles.

Sportman's Pick

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Young Jay Gould's recent winning of the world's court tennis championship discredits the old theory that the "unco ruler" is prone to neglect physical training. Mr. Gould, were he of the soft and lounging kind, after the manner of Vesputian, might have the tongues of nightingales for breakfast, or were he inclined to grandeur, splendor and that jolting perfume of which historians tell us Lucullus was passionately fond, he could command it by a wave of his young hand. However, this sturdy young American, having nothing more pleasant and positively engrossing than a good hard run at tennis, might have played as he plays it far from a game, fitted for girls who read Joan Liberty line of mornings, sip delectable black coffee, and find life prone to effeteism. Mr. Gould is one of the very few American athletes, who has won titles in England.

Gould's accomplishment must be taken in the nature of a triumph of American manhood. It is truly a healthy sign of the times and a theme worthy of more than the weightiness, that a sporting writer can or will, in the nature of his employment amplify.

He won from Estelle Miles, a man more famed to the tennis links, and his victory recalls the old Grecian theory of a sound mind in a sound body.

If more healthy American millionaires would forget their fancy cigarettes, and hang in their dens the old motto "Mens sano in corpore sano," there would be less room for purloin socialists.

GIVE Jimmy Britt, Willie Fitzgerald a punch, and the king of San Anselmo would be champion of the world today. Give Willie Fitzgerald Jimmy Britt's cleverness and finesse and he would be champion. So there you are.

"TAKE IT BACK" would certainly cause consternation if yelled by a Minneapolis player. There are three back freemans to answer the call on that team.

CONSTANT Reader: "When a min knocks a horse run trying to sacrifice, how is he scored?" He is never scored. On the contrary, the player should be warmly praised.

UMPIRE PERRINE says he has time to go out and get a drink between each ball that Hosp pitches. Others have not only the time, but the inclination, though not always the filthy lucre.

THE Goulds have one trust the Interstate Commerce Commission can't touch. It is the world's tennis title.

NED HANLON says he will give his entire salary to the Cincinnati team if they win the pennant. Carnegie could offer his entire fortune on the same proposition, and still be

BARNEY JOY JACK O'BRIEN IS IN CITY GETS HIS LOOKING AFTER INTERESTS

GOOD Philadelphia Pug Says "Twast" All His Fault That He Faked With Canadian Tommy Burns.

By EDDIE SMITH.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien is in San Francisco and with his partner and manager, Jack Cribbens, is looking after the interests of their new hotel and other interests that the Quaker has in San Francisco.

O'Brien for the first time since I have known him refuses to talk much, and his every action indicates that he would much prefer to allow the much-talked-of fake fight with Canadian Tommy Burns to rest where it is, than to continually stir up the flames of the odorous affair by making statements in the papers. The Philadelphia, however, when pressed does not deny that he was mixed up in the arrangements of the fake affair to discredit the public, and his defense, if such it can be construed, is the fact that Tommy Burns and Tom McCarey are as deep in the mire as he. He also says that the scheme originated in the fertile brain of Tom McCarey. Cribbens apparently is of the opinion that the only thing that stopped McCarey and Burns going through with the arrangements was the fact that the contest proved a poor betting fight and they were unable to get enough money down to get it pay them. Both Cribbens and O'Brien are severe in their denunciation of McCarey's actions, and the light and claim that he was four-fused the reporters of the various papers into believing that he was entirely innocent of any wrongdoing, when he was really the prime mover in the fake-out. It is their opinion that McCarey in beating them to the confession was beating them to it in order that O'Brien, who was really the injured party, would have no chance to tell his story and put the club world in wrong. The beat us to it, and of course has the best of it when he was really more to blame than either Burns or myself. It is the may the Quaker pur his side of the argument. Just how long O'Brien is to stay with us, he does not say, but it is surmised from the way he talks that he will leave for his home in Philadelphia as soon as possible and take a rest until the Los Angeles affair has been somewhat forgotten.

BREEZY CHIT CHAT OF THE GAME

"Tip" O'Neill is among us. "Tip" dropped in from Chicago to buy a "Red Dog" and let the boys know how things were shaping up in the Western League, of which he is the fountain head and sage.

Tip says that Buck Francis is doing nicely, which is good news, and that his league will make money this year which is not bad news.

"Tip" will linger with us for a short time, when he will return to Chicago and once again mingle with the tall buildings.

Randolph is on the selling list. The big fellow is not in condition, and this scares him more than, somewhat. He does not know how long the tin will bother him, but he's giving it a good rest, and he hopes to be around in form next week.

News from Quincy, Adams county, Ill., brings the sad tidings that Tiny Tom Hackett's cow, Michael Delph, has been killed by a train. The accounts for Tommy's failure to be among those present to hear Mr. Bull Perrine's dulcet voice cleave the hot air in the ball yard.

According to Mr. Dillon, his hard-hitting hired hand, Brashier, will be back in the game next week. We hope he isn't the home run habit, especially when he is "wasting" Oakland pitchers.

Amateur Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The "Relays" baseball team of San Francisco (formerly the Hoogliars) will cross base this Sunday with Yountville at the veterans' home and a great game is looked for. By defeating Napa two weeks ago the "Relays" are now looked upon as the fastest amateur team leaving Frisco, and can also claim the championship of the county towns, as Napa held the title for the past three seasons. Manager Schwartz of the "Relays" team is willing to back his team against any amount of money. The "Relays" only average ten years of age and look more like a lot of children than ball players and it is often remarked in country towns "When a school out" but they are convinced after the game that it isn't only age that can play ball. As the "Hoogliars" last year they won 30 out of 35 games, a record that has never been equalled, either by professionals or amateurs, and Manager Schwartz feels confident of duplicating that record this season and has started the season by winning three out of four games, defeating Napa, Petaluma two and Los Angeles 2 to 1 in eleven innings.

S. P. WALTER WINS AT GOLF

PACIFIC GROVE, May 18.—The events of yesterday at Del Monte golf links were the qualifying round over eighteen holes, medal play, and the first round of match play in the contest for men's amateur championship of the Pacific Coast Golf Association. The silver medal in the qualifying round brought out good play and was won by Dr. S. P. Walter with a score of 80. He was followed by G. E. Maud, 82; T. B. Mumford, 85; and L. Stratton, 88.

In the afternoon in the first round of match play quite a different showing was made. Both Maud and Mumford got their regular steady form, while Walter's strokes were far less efficient than in the morning. Play ended over the eighteen holes with Mumford defeating Walter by 4 up and 3 to play, and with Maud apparently easily victorious over Stratton, his score being 8 up and 2 to play.

BERKELEY, May 18.—Thomas Clark, proprietor of the Sequoia Club, who was arrested two weeks ago tonight for selling liquor in violation of the town ordinance, presented another demurrer to Police Judge Edgar in court this morning, and on his being overruled, made motion for dismissal, alleging the complaint was defective. This, too, was overruled, and his case was set for trial for next Tuesday morning. This is another case, in which the liquor ordinances are to be tested, as the attorneys say they are unconstitutional.

ATHLETES TO COMPETE TODAY

The last field day of the season will be held on the eldorado path of the University of California this afternoon, when the Webster School of San Francisco will turn its crack athletes loose to enoble sport.

There will be but two scratch races run today, the 60-yard dash and the 120-yard hurdles.

Some good sprinters will start in the 60-yard dash, including Marion Read of Lowell High, P. Gehardt of the Olympic Club and Gletcher of Lick. In place of the usual 220-yard dash the 120-yard has been substituted.

Gehardt of the Olympic Club will start scratch and will give a lead to twenty contestants at various handicaps. Gletcher will have a yard on the Olympic runner and Crossfield, the University of California sprinter, will have the same advantage as the Lick man. Al Munn will start in this race also with a handicap of four yards.

The 1000-yard run, the 600-yard run will be the most popular events of the meet, as these two races have gradually crept into public favor both here and in the East.

During the recent indoor season held back East such runners as Shepard, Parsons, Taylor and Hillman were very prominent in these distances, and the biggest attractions of the fall season in track athletics was the series of races held between these champions.

PAIR OF FLATS ON TWENTY-SECOND STREET, NEAR TELEGRAPH AVENUE, MISSES RUSSAN, OWNERS.

Conveniently Arranged Design, Inside and Out, and Strictly Up to Date in Its Arrangements.

On Twenty-second street near Telegraph avenue a handsome double-flat building is being erected from plans made by McCall & Wythe, architects.

for the Misses Russan. The structure stands on a lot with a frontage of twenty-five feet. One of the flats contains six rooms; the other, seven rooms. Each flat is equipped with all the modern conveniences, bath room, laundry and separate tradesman's entrance. Each flat also has a separate main entrance and porch. The frame of the building is now up to the second story, and its cost when completed will be a trifle over $4700.

REALTY MARKET IS ACTIVE, BUT FREE FROM ALL SPECULATIVE FEVERISHNESS

Much Trading Going On in Residence Lots and an Increased Number of Dwellings in Course of Erection; Outsiders Are Investing.

The real estate market in this city is, generally speaking, eminently satisfactory. The real estate offices continue well patronized by seekers for property. A conservative disposition is shown by the owners of property in the business quarters and in the well-settled residence districts, which are not being invaded by business. In the latter, of course, owners are tightening their grip on their holdings. This is only natural. It would be the same in any city passing as rapidly as Oakland through an evolutionary stage, every successive day in which opens new vistas and develops new prospects for the near future.

WHAT OFFICIAL RECORDS SHOW.

While the real estate agencies cling tenaciously to their old-time conservatism about revealing their operations, the County Recorder's office tells the story plainly of what is going on in realty circles. These public records are indisputable. While the transactions do not embrace as many large properties as they did during the emergency period, when new business firms invaded the town with a rush and sought with impatient haste for desirable locations, they represent something which is, for the time being, at least, quite as important, namely, a steadily increasing demand for residence property, which is an infallible indication of the rapidly with which the city's population is growing. For this class of property the demand is, in fact, insatiable. County Recorder Grim's record of transfers for the week ending at close of business on Wednesday is as follows:

Thursday	189
Friday	195
Saturday (half holiday)	200
Monday	135
Tuesday	164
Wednesday	168

Total 953
Once more, it will be observed, the record has reached approximately the one thousand mark. But the marvelous feature of the week's transactions is the record-breaking results of the Saturday half-holiday, when two hundred documents were filed during the morning hours. As usual, it should be borne in mind that a large proportion of these documents represent the transfer of business and residence properties, mostly within the limits of Oakland proper.

DEMAND FOR STORES.

The demand for stores for business purposes is as brisk and strenuous as it ever was. Everything indicates that it will be a long time before a normal stage will be reached. Indeed, the indications are strong that the old-time normal stage will never again be witnessed on this side of the bay. New business firms are searching in vain, just now, for suitable locations. Some of them are abiding the developments which are now in progress in the way of new store buildings. To illustrate, a San Francisco business house, dealing in ladies' dry goods supplies (I. Magnin & Co.), which has decided to establish itself here, having so far failed to get a suitable ground-floor location, has temporarily accommodated itself with quarters on an upper floor in the Crellin block. Again, for several weeks past a San Jose firm has vainly sought for premises in which to establish its business, on Broadway, Washington and Clay streets, although premiums have been offered to the present tenants to vacate. Nearly every real estate dealer in town reports that he is up against a stone wall when it comes to meeting a customer's application for a business store. The great cry of the hour is not only "more residences," but "more stores." As the money market is easing up and the prices of structural materials are declining and promise soon to reach a rational basis, many business blocks which have been planned and which have been temporarily hung up will be carried out, and opportunities for suitable business quarters will become easier to supply.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

Building improvements continue to multiply. This is to be seen clearly in the record of building permits. East Oakland is coming to the front in new residence development. In one case a whole block is being covered with cottages approximating $2000 each in value and representing a lump outlay of $20,000 to help supply the demand for dwellings, and new flats, apartment houses and lodging houses are growing more and more conspicuous in the record of new buildings.

NEW COMERS INVESTING.

In the investment line are many new comers from the interior. Well-to-do mining men are buying homes in Oakland, and laying out additional costly improvements to the properties bought, as they did in the days when the Comstock lode was at the zenith of its glory. Two of this class of investors figure in the sale record of this week, one hailing from Trinity and the other from Goldfield.

OAKLAND WATER FRONT PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

Southern Pacific Buys a Strip on West Side of the North Arm for a Big Sum.

E. C. Sessions this week made a $200,000 sale for the Oakland Water Front Company to the Southern Pacific Company on the west side of the north arm of the estuary, between the First and Eighth street bridges. This property was currently but erroneously believed to have been acquired some time ago by the Western Pacific Railroad Company; but the latter seems to be content to condemn simply the right of way through the tract for the main line to enter Third street. The property transferred from the Oakland Water Front Company to the Southern Pacific Company embraces the whole of the strip of marsh and tide lands to ordinary low-water mark lying east of the easterly line of the Adams estate property, between the First street track and Eighth street.

COST OF THE NEW DEPOT

S. P. Is Spending Nearly Eighteen Thousand at Foot of Broadway.

The application for a permit to build the new depot and baggage room on the north side of First street, between Broadway and Franklin, which the Southern Pacific Company has filed with the Board of Public Works, places the cost of the former, a sketch of which was published in THE TRIBUNE last Saturday, at $10,500, and of the latter at $7000.

BUILDING A NEW GARAGE

Frank J. Woodward Is About to Erect One on Franklin Street.

Wilson & Son are about to build a one-story garage twenty-eight feet high, for Frank J. Woodward on the east side of Franklin street 786 1/2 feet north of Fourteenth street. It will cover a lot 50x150 and will cost $6,700.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Among the troubles that beset mankind rheumatism is one of the most aggravating. "I suffered with it for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk; at other times it would be in my feet and hands, so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that time for over three months. For sale by Osgood Bros., Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets.

MISSING BRIDE FOUND.

A news telegram from New Brunswick, N. J., says: "Married less than one month ago at Greenville, Pa., Mrs. Annie N. Slayer, a 37-year-old bride, is stopping with friends in this city in an effort to avoid her husband. She declares she could not live with him. The husband, John Slayer, seeks to have his wife arrested on a charge of stealing $75, but she says the money is her own. The Greenville police telegraphed that an officer would come here for the young woman, but he has failed to materialize."

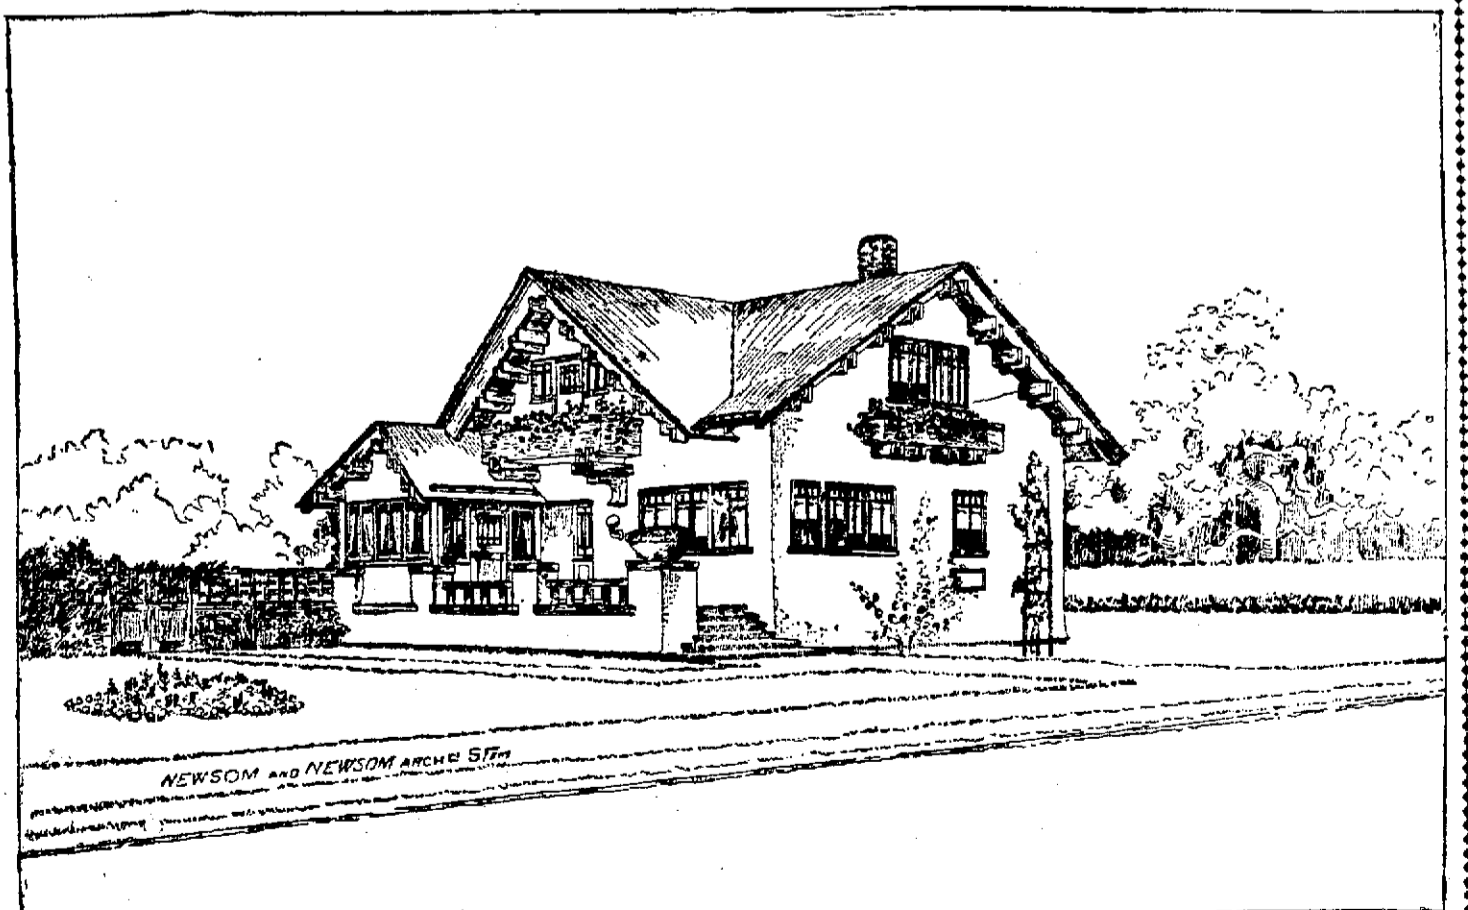

WONDERFUL ECZEMA CURE

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors, but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle, and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured. Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets. 50c.

BIG BUILDING FOR LODGINGS

A two-story, twenty-four room lodging house is to be erected by W. A. Schoen on the west side of Thirty-third street, 250 feet west of Telegraph avenue. The building will cost $12,250.

RESIDENCE IMPROVEMENTS IN ALAMEDA INCREASING ON SOUTH SIDE

NEW RESIDENCE OF MARCELLUS KREGBAUM ON SOUTH CLINTON AVENUE.

Bay Shore of the Encinal City Is Becoming a Popular Location for Erection of Handsome Cottages, Which Are Multiplying.

The attractions for residence purposes of the bayshore on the south side of the Encinal City across the estuary are beginning to be appreciated. The TRIBUNE presented last week a perspective sketch of a handsome dwelling which is being erected there.

Above is an illustration of another of a somewhat different type, designed by the same architects, Newsom & Newsom, of San Francisco, both of whom are, however, residents of Oakland. It represents a cement bungalow whose construction is about to be started, for Marcellus Kregbaum of 520 California street, San Francisco. The lot on which it will stand is on south Clinton street, near Chestnut street. It will have seven rooms and a bath-room with every convenience to make it both artistic and useful. The location is near the bay shore beach on the south side of Alameda. It will cost $6500.

ALAMEDA UTILIZING THE WATER FRONTAGE

Building Wharves Along the South Side of Brooklyn Basin for New Commerce.

ALAMEDA, May 18.—One of the largest industries that has located in Alameda in the past twelve months is the Taylor Lumber and Milling company which has opened a large plant on the estuary at the foot of Grand street. The company has installed an immense amount of machinery and is one of the largest milling firms on this side of the bay.

The plant is situated near that of the Alaska Packers' Association. The channel to the wharf at the foot of Grand street is being dredged and boats of great depth will soon be able to dock at the edge of the sites of the two concerns. The dredging is being done by the city and there will be a deep water channel within three weeks. The Taylor company has installed a large tank for fire purposes. It contains 20,000 gallons and there is a full fire fighting equipment. The main building of the Taylor company is over 200 feet long.

Numerous other improvements are being made along the estuary and Alamedans are looking to the day when it will be a great manufacturing center. The value of land is increasing steadily and a number of large parcels have been recently purchased though the owners are not giving any information of their intentions as yet. It is rumored that another gas engine company is soon to erect buildings near Paru street. There has been an increase in valuation which is really marvelous. Land has more than tripled in value and there are many sites which cannot be purchased for any price.

THREE-STORY GARAGE ON SEVENTEENTH STREET

George W. McNear Is Remodeling the Old Juanita Stables Property.

Work has begun on a large garage designed by C. W. Dickey, the architect, for George W. McNear, to cover the irregular lot fronting on 17th and 18th, east of San Pablo avenue, now occupied by the Juanita Stables. The Seventeenth street frontage is seventy-five feet and a depth of 108 feet, on which a three-story reinforced concrete structure is to be erected. On Eighteenth street the property has a frontage of forty-four feet with a depth of 140, a portion of the rear to which abuts on the Seventeenth street lot. On the ground on the Eighteenth frontage a one-story corrugated iron structure is now being erected. Then there is a forty-three-foot westerly extension to the Seventeenth street lot on which a one-story structure is now standing which will not be disturbed. The improvements made will cost about $10,000.

ROW OF COTTAGES TO BE BUILT IN EAST OAKLAND

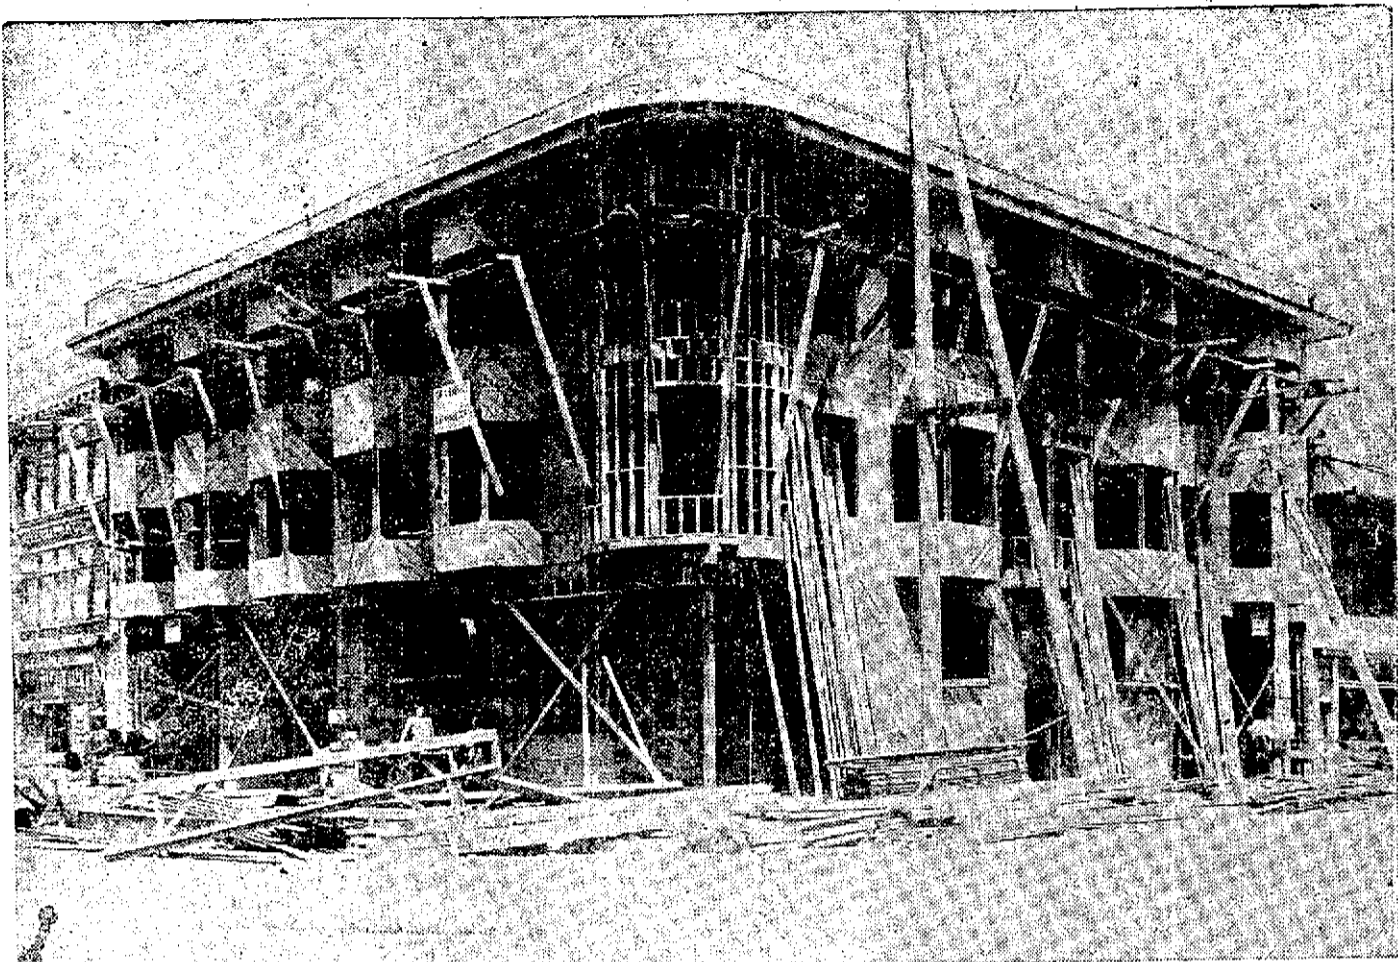

Steady Growth of Population Makes an Extraordinary Demand for Dwellings.

C. M. MacGregor has applied to the Board of Public Works for a permit to build eleven one-story, five-room cottages on the north side of East Twentieth street, from thirty feet west of Twenty-first avenue to 360 feet west thereof, each house to occupy a lot thirty feet in width and to cost $1900. This makes a total outlay in these improvements of $20,900.

AND REAL ESTATE MARKET HAS A HEALTHY TONE

ANOTHER PROOF OF OAKLAND'S BUSINESS QUARTER DEVELOPMENT SUGGESTION REGARDING OAKLAND VALUES

SAM LIVINGSTON NEW BUSINESS BLOCK, NORTHWEST CORNER OF ELEVENTH AND WEBSTER STREETS.

This Is One of the Methods Which Are Being Adopted to Furnish Accommodations for Business.

The above illustration represents one of the methods which are being adopted to provide emergency quarters for the expansion of business in Oakland. It represents the improved condition of the Sam Livingston business block at the northwest corner of Eleventh and Webster streets. The building is located in the wholesale and retail produce district which was recently incorporated in the fire limits. The permit to build a wooden structure had been issued, the contract for it had been let and the excavation made before the ordinance extending the fire limits had been framed and started on its way, and, although the Board of Public Works canceled the permit and nearly a dozen others, after the ordinance became law, the resolution revoking the permit was subsequently rescinded to avoid the possibility of litigation for damages growing out of the stoppage of the work. The building is a three-story and basement structure. The latter is built of reinforced concrete, and is, therefore, capable later on, when the stress for business structures comes up a little, to carry a fire-proof upper structure. The stores will be occupied chiefly, if not wholly, by produce commission firms and the upper floors by offices or lodging house.

capitalist and mining man, lately of Salt Lake City, Utah. Mr. Sherman is largely interested in the Nevada gold fields, being a large owner in the Sherman Goldfield Mines Company of Goldfield.

The premises conveyed is situated at No. 461, south side of Merrimac street, between Telegraph avenue and Broadway; size of lot, 195x145 feet. The residence contains fourteen rooms. The price paid was $20,000. Layman Real Estate Company represented both the buyer and seller.

BERKELEY'S REAL ESTATE MARKET CONTINUES ACTIVE

Business and Residence Property Is in Demand and Industries Are Increasing.

BERKELEY, May 18.—The progress of this city continues without the slightest sign of interruption. Trading in realty is active. Sales of inside and of outside lots are up to the average. Inquiry for desirable locations for business and residence is growing steadily. Increased facilities for rapid transit and plans for the extension of the local system throughout the suburbs are sustaining interest and attracting population.

CLAREMONT HOTEL OPENING.

The opening of the Claremont tourist hotel is among the big events of the near future and its effect on realty and the internal development of this city cannot be overestimated. Located, as it is, in one of the loveliest spots at the foot of the Contra Costa range, and commanding an unsurpassable view, its success is assured. It is reported, in fact, that the opening day will witness practically its complete tenancy by guests, and there is a big inquiry for suburban residence sites in its immediate neighborhood. The value of this magnificent hotel as an asset to Berkeley and Oakland really cannot be overestimated.

BERKELEY BUSINESS QUARTERS.

Berkeley's business quarters are growing steadily. It is not an exotic growth, as is proved by the fact that every business block erected is filled with tenants as soon as completed. Plans are maturing for extensive additions to these quarters.

The water front and rail facilities of West Berkeley are also growing in popular appreciation. Much attention is being given to the development of the former for the benefit of commerce. Lands suited for the location of manufacturing are being snapped up. New enterprises are taking root. Others are being evolved as rapidly as their promoters can materialize their plans.

Without reference to any particular firms, all of the real estate brokers report an active market. Sales continue numerous. Public interest in Berkeley realty is still on the upgrade. Outside capital is being constantly invested. New faces are in evidence every week among the buyers of property, and prices are naturally advancing.

During the week, the Layman Real Estate company has sold two valuable pieces of residence property in this city to wealthy mining men whose residences and interests heretofore have been elsewhere. One of them, and the property he has bought, is reported and illustrated elsewhere. In that case, the buyer hails from Goldfield, Nevada. The other is a Trinity county copper mining man—F. G. King, who has bought, through this realty brokerage firm, the residence of Faustina Pauline, located on the northwest corner of Nineteenth avenue and East Twenty-fifth street, for $7000. The house is two stories in height and contains ten rooms. It stands on a lot 140x215 feet, occupying a charming residence position. The buyer is so well pleased with his purchase that he has decided to spend from $7000 to $10,000 in additional improvements to the property.

TO THE WISE NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

Wouldn't you be ashamed to admit that you bought in Oakland because some one else did?

Because some of the get-rich-quick manipulators have carried their operations too high cannot change the future of Oakland. And now they have played a regular stock market game on you and caused a slump in prices.

(with them), while prices are unsettled and we have a chance to buy right for you.

You know they cannot hold Oakland back. Her future is beyond question! Your own judgment is what will make you rich. Let us assist that judgment.

This sending away and holding back of the necessary money to assist the small home builder is a crime against our fair city, worse than the rebate system on the railroads.

If you have money in bank let us loan it for you on new buildings, and double your interest.

If you agree with the above, let us show you some good buys.

By an error which originated in the official reports from the Coroner's office regarding the suicide of Robert Glenn, a retired rancher, who lived at 895 Thirty-fourth street, THE TRIBUNE erroneously stated yesterday that he was the father-in-law of Congressman Duncan McKinlay of Santa Rosa. Glen was related by marriage only to Congressman McKinlay, his daughter being the wife of J. M. McKinlay, a brother of the representative.

ORIENTAL RUGS

Announcement Extraordinary

Beginning Monday Morning, we will place on sale the entire Oriental Rug Stock of the John Breuner Company, Van Ness Avenue, at prices, in many cases, one-half of their marked value.

This event is occasioned by the extraordinary conditions which prevail in San Francisco. The John Breuner Company are reducing their stock, and closing out several departments, and have consigned the entire stock of Orientals to us for a final clearance.

These rugs were bought at a much lower figure than could be duplicated at the present time. They were taken directly from bond; doing away with the middleman's profit.

They are marked at purely merchandising prices---no fictitious values. The assortment is large and embraces nearly all of the well known weaves.

See further announcement in Sunday papers.

TWO THOUSAND FOR SISTER

Twenty-Two Words in Death-bed Will of Warren Sanborn.

In just twenty-two words, including his signature, Warren G. Sanborn, who died in Berkeley May 5th, at the age of 65 years, bequeathed his $5000 worth of realty to his aged sister, Susan A. Sanborn, over 70 years old and a resident of 1663 Walnut street, Berkeley. The remainder of the estate, consisting of personal property and money in the bank valued at about $10,000, was not provisioned for in the will that was filed for probate yesterday afternoon, but there are other heirs who will probably receive their portions when the Superior Court makes a division of the pioneer's effects.

Besides his sister, who is the only heir named in the will that was made May 3, 1907, on his deathbed, the deceased left a daughter, Augusta W. Sanborn, living at 1583 Walnut street, Berkeley, and another daughter, Mrs. May S. Noyes, of 1020 Napa street, Vallejo. The petition for probate asks that Arthur P. Noyes be appointed administrator of the estate.

BERKELEY, May 18.—Berkeley Parlor, No. 150, Native Daughters of the Golden West, have completed arrangements for their second annual ball to be given in Wilkins' Hall, Tuesday night, May 21st. The program is an elaborate one and the committee are hard at work.

Last night Berkeley Parlor, No. 150, N. D. G. W., gave a banquet in Native Sons' Hall to their newly elected delegates to the grand parlor, which meets in Watsonville the first week in July. These are Miss Eleanor Keagan-Middlehoff and Mrs. Will Luhr, with alternates Miss Clara Luhr and Miss Lella Brackett.

About twenty-five members of the parlor were present. Miss Lella Brackett was toastmistress.
 The decorations were of climbing
